19 German Ships Shot Down In First Attack Upon Britain Today.

BULLETIN

LONDON — (AP) — German raiders swept in from the coast this afternoon for a third attempt to raid London in five hours after twice unsuccessfully trying to penetrate this capital's air defenses.

(By Associated Press)

LONDON—British fighters and anti-aircraft defenses turned back wave after wave of German planes—numbering 400 in all—trying to break through toward the London area for the second time in three hours today

Repeatedly the raiders stormed against the capital's outlying defenses only to meet with firm resistance from British fighters and thundering anti-aircraft guns

The German attackers who lost at least 19 planes in their first attempt to reach the London area, shifted their route for the second try

The day's second alarm sounded about 3.30 p m (9 30 a m EST) but the all clear signal came six minutes later

An hour before the afternoon alarm sounded air battles were reported over southeastern England, where the raiders were trying to cross over another section.

While the battle still raged the air ministry issued this communique

FAIR RACES OFF

Rain Brings Cancellation of Last Day's Card.

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Eight heats postponed from yesterday and today's entire racing card at the 90th annual Ohio state fair were cancelled by fair officials today.

An all-night rain made the track so soupy that racing was impossible. Definite decision concerning purse money in Thursday's races had not been made but tentative plans called for dividing purses among the winners.

Only two heats of the featured governor's state for Ohio-owned, three-year-old trotters were run

Wife Given Task Of Telling Mate About Crash Toll

AKRON—(UP)—Mrs Thomas L Murtaugh faced the painful task today of informing her husband for the first time of the full extent of tragedy in the "Doodlebug" train wreck near Cuyahoga Falls on July 31 in which 43 persons died.

Murtaugh, engineer of the ill-fated Pennsylvania train, was back home in neighboring Orrville where he was removed yesterday after being in an Akron hospital recovering from injuries since the day of the wreck

He was not told while in the hospital of the frightful death toll in the wreck. He leaped from his engine cab just before the fatal collision with a freight train.

F. H. Knick district superintendent for the railroad, has said it would be up to Mrs Murtaugh to break the news to her husband of the full extent of the loss of life

Heavy Rain Helps Crops In Richland

Two-Inch Fall Fills Wells Dried Up By Drought, Aids Pastures.

The heaviest rainstorm since early in June last night poured 2 15 inches of water on Mansfield revived lawns and crops and replenished dwindling water supplies in Richland county rural districts

While that much rainfall under ordinary conditions would create a flood threat, the earth was so dry that most of the water was absorbed as it fell

Farmers said the heavy rain averted a serious drought threat and was worth thousands of dollars to them in help to pastures and late corn and potatoes. Cisterns were dry in many communities and wells were so low that farmers were forced to haul water for their livestock.

Rain fell most of the night and the fall was heavy after 11 p m It continued until 10 a m today

Work on the West Fourth street paving project and county roads was halted, but it was expected that operations can be resumed Saturday if there is no more rain before then

Halts Tournament.

The heavy downpour halted play in the Ohio Senior Golf tournament at Westbrook Country club and the last round of play was cancelled today.

More rain was forecast for tonight with partly cloudy weather predicted for Saturday

Temperatures last night and today were slightly above normal with a high of 83 degrees recorded yesterday and the low this morning 66 degrees

Reports from other sections of Ohio indicated the rain was general over the state. Sections of central and western Ohio were harder hit by drought than the Mansfield area, and farmers welcomed the rain.

ORGANIZE FOR FALL CAMPAIGN

Democrats. Republicans Get Set For Opening of 'Most Intensive' Drives.'

Richland county Democrats and Republicans today had completed preliminary arrangements for their fall campaigns

Democrats met last night to lay the groundwork for what is termed to be the "most extensive campaign to be carried out in the county's history. Republicans met earlier in the week to draft plans for their "biggest campaign"

Atty. John C O'Donnell. Democratic executive committee chairman, said that a 17-member campaign committee was named to carry the drive into each of the county's 92 precincts

Plans call for the organization of nearly 200 persons, including one man and one woman worker in each precinct to check every home in an effort to get out the vote on Nov. 5.

Predictions are already being made that voting this year will top all previous records in the county.

A special committee has been set up by the party to bring in votes from absent, disabled and voters who are sick before the deadline.

Atty. Marshall C. Moore, president of the Young Democratic club, has been named general chairman in charge of the campaign drive. He will be assisted

PREDICT QUICK HOUSE ACTION ON DRAFT BILL

Conscription Backers See Overwhelming Passage of Measure.

FOES ATTACK PLAN

Committee Minority Report Hits Training Setup as 'Unnecessary.'

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Pre-debate skirmishing opened up in the house today on the peacetime conscription bill with a group of foes assailing it as "unnecessary' and its advocates predicting that it would ride through to overwhelming approval by the end of next week

The attack was incorporated in an eight-man minority report filed on the revised version of the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training measure which was approved yesterday by a majority of the members of the house military committee.

Actual debate is scheduled to start Tuesday on the house bill, which differ in one vital particular from that passed by the senate The house measure would require male citizens from 21 to 44 to register for possible service Whereas the senate's age brackets was 21 to 30. Leaders saw a hot fight in the offing on the age question

The minority report attack on the Burke-Wadsworth bill declared "that this proposal and others inevitably to follow to conscript man power, conscript the farmers, conscript industry conscript labor to run industry and conscript the wealth of the nation is not only unnecessary at this time to adequate defense of the country but that it is a distinct and dangerous departure which will lead ultimately to the destruction of the American form of government in a totalitarian military economy '

The report bore the names of Representatives Anderson (D-Mo) Byrns (D-Tenn), Short (R-Mo) Arends (R-Ill) Shafer (R-Mich), Martin (R-Ia) Elston (R-Ohio) and Harness (R-Ind) It was reported that at least one

6 Finish 6-Mile Rocky Fork Creek Inspection In 6 Hours

Their arms and hands torn by briars and their faces streaked with perspiration, six of the more persistent members of an "expedition" pulled up at the finish line at 3 p m yesterday after hiking six miles in six hours to examine the channel of Rocky Fork creek

The finishers represented less than half the delegation that started at 9 a m yesterday, east of Mansfield, to inspect the creek channel before mapping plans for a dredging project in a flood prevention program

In the group that reached Longview avenue in mid-afternoon to complete the six-mile trek were George Draffan, vice president of the Ohio Brass company; M. L. Pryor, president of the Barnes Manufacturing company; E. R. Hartman and C. L. Hartenfels, members of the Mansfield Conservancy board; County Commissioner Guy Stewart, and County Engineer Howard Sword.

Paul Tappan, president of the Tappan Stove company almost finished, but he had to drop out to attend to a business call

Mayor W J. Locke, who quit early because he figured there wasn't any need to go all the way, played nine holes of golf after the hike to prove that he wasn't tuckered out

County Commissioner Guy Stewart said the trip was 'just a good work-out ' for him

"I keep in shape by following my hunting dogs around over the hills," he added

The Conservancy board members and industrial firm representatives will meet in a few days with city and county officials to discuss their findings and map the dredging project which is expected to get under way by early fall.

FDR REFUSES PLANT DRAFT DISCUSSIONS

Charges Willkie Is Attempting To Get Him Involved In Political Squabble.

TAKES SILENT ROLE

Asserts Wallace Talk Speaks For Itself Without His Comment.

(By Associated Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—President Roosevelt charged today that efforts were being made to involve him in a political controversy over a provision of the conscription bill authorizing the government to take over private industrial plants.

He declined at a press conference to answer Wendell L. Willkie's demand that he state his position on the provision, asserting that an attempt was being made to involve him in a political discussion.

Let us acknowledge it and stop there, the president said

The provision, inserted in the conscription bill before it passed the senate would empower the chief executive to take over plants or facilities when the secretary of war or secretary of navy was unable to negotiate an agreement with the owners for production of defense needs

Mr. Roosevelt declined to be drawn into a discussion on whether he approved the amendment or whether he concurred with Henry A Wallace's statement in his speech last night accepting the Democratic vice presidential nomination that the Republican party was a party of appeasement.

He said he did not think a ques-

Given Promise Of Armed Help Against Soviet

Carol's Government Agrees to Cession Of Territory to Hungary In Return For Defense of Russian Border; Faces Bulgarian Threat.

BULLETIN

BERLIN—(AP)—Both Germany and Italy have guaranteed the newly-shrunken borders of Rumania, DNB, official German news agency announced today.

(By Associated Press)

BUCHAREST—Rumania announced today she had accepted an Axis ultimatum in negotiations for a cession of part of Transylvania to Hungary, and reliable reports said she had received in return a promise that German troops would come speedily to help defend her troubled Russian frontier.

While the government's communique did not say outright she had agreed to cede part of Transylvania, it did declare that "as a result of the ultimate demand of Germany and Italy, Rumania has decided to accept arbitration on the Transylvanian question."

It was reliably reported here that "arbitration" would involve a loss of more than half of the 35,000 square mile province with its 3,500,000 people.

Threat of an immediate Soviet invasion as a consequence of a Hungarian attack backed by the Axis forced the early morning capitulation to the four-power conference at Vienna where Rumania reportedly was told German motorized columns and air force were ready to move at a moment's notice if the demand for a part of Transylvania was ignored

But as part of a secret agreement now being made at Vienna, it was reported reliably German troops will be sent immediately to guard Rumania's new frontier with Soviet Russia.

Government circles said Rumania faced overwhelming odds in a ring of threatened invasions

Besides a Hungarian invasion, backed by Germany, and the possibility Russia would decide to move in from the north and east in event of conflict, Rumania also faced the possibility Bulgaria would act from the south, they said.

A reply to Rumania's acceptance

THREAT: Stalin Gives Axis Powers New Worry In Balkans

By J. W T MASON
(United Press War Expert.)

Rumanian surrender to Hungarian territorial demands, under Italo-German pressure, brings Hitler and Mussolini nearer to a clash with Russia over irreconciliable vital interests. Stalin is renewing today his threatening attitude toward Rumania and his Black Sea fleet is becoming active as a gesture of disquietude over extension of German and Italian influences in the Balkans

It was Stalin who started the Danubian tension by seizing Bessarabia and Bukovina He is not so short-sighted as to have believed Nazi and Fascist diplomacy would allow him to seek a paramount position in southeastern Europe without a struggle To the present the response to the totalitarian dictators has been the territory for the benefit of Bulgaria and Hungary

This shrewd maneuver brings Bulgaria and Hungary within the circle of German and Italian

SLAIN: Americans Reported Killed By Italian Raiders

(By Associated Press)

CAIRO—The governor general of the Sudan announced today that two American missionaries were killed and two wounded by "deliberate" Italian machine-gunning of an isolated missionary post in the Sudan

The governor's report said that two Italian planes attacked Doro, an isolated station of the Sudan interior mission in upper Nile province about 55 miles southwest of Kurkuk, Aug 23

At least 30 bombs were dropped and then the Italian fliers used their machine-guns, the report said

Of the staff of five persons it said, Dr and Mrs Robert Grieve were killed and Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Oglesby were wounded

All are Americans Their addresses were not given

The Grieves were said to have run out of the mission station waving a large American flag but that this failed to ward off the machine-gun attack by the Italians.

The missionary station was described as "absolutely isolated with no sort of military objective in the vicinity "

Wallace Says Hitler Wants Willkie Elected President

CLAIMS NAZIS CHEER ATTACK ON ROOSEVELT

Vice Presidential Nominee Charges G. O. P. Leaders Are 'Appeasers.'

DES MOINES, Ia.—Henry A. Wallace sounded the keynote of his campaign in accepting the Democratic vice presidential nomination last night with a charge that Republican leaders are "appeasers" of Adolf Hitler.

Democratic party leaders, including National Chairman Edward J. Flynn, said Wallace's acceptance speech was indicative" of the campaign which he will make for himself and his running mate, President Roosevelt.

"Most Republicans may not yet realize it, but their party is the party of appeasement in the United States today," Wallace charged. It is the party which the totalitarian powers will back in every way possible."

Approximately 10,000 persons jammed every available space in the coliseum to hear Wallace make his first speech for an elective political office. Radio broadcasts carried it over most of the world.

In the presence of friends and neighbors who knew him as a Republican prior to 1932, Wallace linked Republicanism and Hitlerism and assailed them as threats to the security of the United States.

"Powerful elements in our opposition will, if the Republicans come into power, force us to make one economic concession after another to the totalitarian countries," Wallace declared.

"These appeasers will have their way if the Republicans win, because they will have contributed largely, both politically and financially, to the Republican cause."

He said he did not wish to imply that the Republican leaders are "wilfully and consciously giving aid and comfort to Hitler." He added, however: "Some of the bitter attacks on Roosevelt's program were directly inspired by the agents of Hitler in this country."

"But, whatever the motive, the effect has been the same—these attacks on Roosevelt and his program played into the hands of Hitler. Every evidence of opposition to Roosevelt within the United States has been reason for rejoicing in Berlin."

Wallace said a Republican victory might give the totalitarian powers an opportunity for an early attack upon the Americas. "In the many months that would elapse before a new administration could act effectively, they might have their chance," he explained.

SAWYER SWINGS PEACEFUL GAVEL

Agrees to Preside at Party Platform Meeting of Ohio Democrats.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS—Democrats praying for more harmony in the Ohio camp were cheered today by news that national committeeman Charles Sawyer would preside at a session of the party's state platform convention here Sept. 6-7.

State Chairman J. Freer Bittinger announced that Sawyer would wield the gavel the night of Sept. 6.

Bittinger is campaign manager for Martin L. Davey, who took control of the state organization from Sawyer when he was renominated for governor at the May primary.

Since then Sawyer, managing President Roosevelt's re-election campaign in Ohio, and Bittinger have maintained separate offices, despite efforts of some party leaders to have them operate from one establishment.

Bittinger also announced that Rep. T. V. Smith, congressman-at-large from Illinois and a noted New Deal orator, would be the convention's keynote speaker.

Rep. Smith and U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft, a Republican, engaged last year in a series of radio debates on "The Foundation of Democracy."

INDIA DEMANDS FREEDOM FIRST BEFORE AIDING BRITISH FIGHT

(By Associated Press)

BOMBAY—India with all her vast millions in manpower will "throw her full weight into the struggle" with Britain against the Axis powers only if India's independence is acknowledged. Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, former president of the Indian national congress, declared today.

Nehru said the Aug. 8 statement by Lord Linlithgow, British viceroy of India, reiterating promises of "empire partnership" between India and Britain at the end of the war was actually a continuation of the "entire British policy of creating and aggravating disruptive tendencies, crushing nationalism and advance elements in favor of feudal and reactionary groups so as to consolidate British imperialism."

In an execlusive interview, explaining the India congress' refusal to co-operate with the empire's war effort, Nehru said:

"We are entirely opposed to Nazism, but we are also opposed to imperialism, with which we have had bitter experience ourselves and which crushes our growth and exploits us.

"The demand of congress for complete independence as opposed to the promised dominion status is based on the idea that if the war is really a war for democracy and freedom, then imperialism must end and the independence and self-determination of India must be acknowledged.

In that event, he said, "India would throw her full weight into the struggle.

"Congress sought no power or position for itself," he declared, "but demanded an elected constituent assembly to frame India's constitution.

"The British government's reply was wholly unsatisfactory, and in most provinces the provincial governments resigned in protest.

"Since then autonomy has been suspended and autocratic rule prevails. It is the old conflict between parliaments and the king's autocracy which England, America and France know so well."

Since the independence plea was made 11 months ago, Nehru said, "the wishes of the Indian people have been completely ignored and over-ridden by means of government by ordinance and decree."

Hundreds of well-known public workers, he said, have been arrested.

SAYS LANGUAGE TOO SIMPLE TO MISINTERPRET

Declares Paish Propaganda of Type That Should Be Stamped Out.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The British embassy has "very firmly advised" Sir George Paish, British economist, now under investigation by the department of justice, to return to London at once, the embassy disclosed today.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Senator Wheeler today denied he misrepresented Sir George Paish when he told the senate Monday that the 72-year-old British economist was trying to drag the United States into war.

Replying to Paish's statement in New York yesterday that he was misunderstood by Wheeler, the Montana Democrat said:

"It is inconceivable that one could misinterpret such simple language as 'I am the man who got this country into the last war and I am going to get the United States into this war.'

"I did not misinterpret anything that Sir George Paish said to me because there was no chance for misinterpretation — his language was so plain and simple."

The justice department is making a thorough inquiry into Paish's activities in this country. It was begun after Wheeler accused the titled Englishman of propagandizing to get the United States into war.

(Editor's Note: In an interview in New York Paish was represented as expressing indifference to the justice department's investigation. "They are investigating my credentials, not me," he was quoted as saying.)

In reply to Paish's statement that he presented "certain facts" to Wheeler, the senator said:

"Paish presented me no facts. He gave me only conclusions based upon what might happen which he conjured up in his mind.

"This propaganda is the type which should be stamped out in the United States whether it is proposed by Germans, Frenchmen, Italians or the English."

AUTO DESTROYED

Flames Envelop Car, Driver Escapes Serious Injury.

Freeman Teeters, R. D. 2, Mansfield, escaped with minor burns on his face and arms when his car backfired and burst into flames about noon yesterday on the Pavonia-Olivesburg road seven miles northeast of Mansfield.

Teeters told deputy sheriffs that he was trying to get the car started by letting it coast down a hill when the motor backfired and flames shot up over the hood, burning him slightly before he could stop the automobile and jump out.

The car, a 1935 model coupe, was destroyed within a few minutes, Teeters said. Officers were of the opinion that a short circuit in the motor ignited gasoline in the carburetor and the flames then spread to the gasoline tank.

The Voice of BROADWAY

—By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

New York In November.

(A Preview of the Coming Broadway Season)

Something gets into the air this time of year—some hint of fall, some smell of gold, some dream of box office—that makes the Times Square producers in 21 and the night club owners in their velvet bistros sit around and make predictions about the season on its way. This year, they forecast (knocking wood and lighting incense and peering into their crystal balls) will see the hottest, brightest, most glamorous, spendingest night club era the town has been privileged to witness since the Gilt-edged Twenties.

There will be two limousines to every playboy, two orchids to every show girl, two customers waiting for every seat in a night club; all the wallets will be stuffed with thousand-dollar bills, and champagne will flow like lemonade at a Sunday school picnic.

If this is true, November will mark the height of the festive months. The drama will be blooming, the stars will be out and out on the town, and ermine crowds will be shedding their suntans in the midnight cafes. There'll be a new play opening about every night, and two on some nights: Hope Hampton and Lucius Beebe and Herbert Bayard Swope will be in the aisles, and George Jean Nathan will be in his seat, frowning.

The Stork club will exchange its champagne wall for black velvet, and look like the inside of a jeweler's box again. . . . The town will have a tang. . . . There'll be ice skating in Rockefeller Plaza, hot toddies in the restaurants around the rink. . . . The first snow will fall on the spire of the Chrysler building. . . . People will be counting the Shopping days before Christmas.

Helen Hayes will be in boy's tights for "Twelfth Night," and her voice will be on the air every Sunday night in revivals of great plays. . . . George Kelly and Charlie Adler will move a Baby Grand into the 48th Street Tavern and take up where they left off as the Yacht Club Boys.

There'll be a society page and feature story clamor about a new Nov. 1 Debutante, and the camera boys will get their flashlights ready, but Brenda Frazier will steal the front pages and the middle pages and the space in the gossip columns.

The gag-snappers at Lindy's will drag out all the old Dorothy Parker quips and attribute them to Oscar Levant, who doesn't need them. . . . Eddy Duchin will be at the Waldorf, and the Persian room will have a deluxe floor show of beautiful babes.

People will be talking about Orson Welles' first movie, and Orson Welles will be back in the Stork club at a round table near the bar, looking thinner and twitting Tallulah Bankhead. . . . John O'Hara's character "Pal Joey" will be on a Broadway stage, with music by Rodgers and lyrics by Hart. . . . Monte Prosser will open a new club on the East Side, which will probably zombie to success. . . . Chaplin will be on the screen again in the long-delayed "Dictator."

There'll be more rhumba joints than ever, and no dance will supplant the conga among the Younger Fry. . . . On Saturdays 21 will empty suddenly after lunch, and be jammed again with returning pink-nosed football fans hurrying noisily toward their old-fashioned. . . . On Sunday nights, The Stork and El Morocco will have contests.

Two of Katharine Cornell's stage smashes—"The Letter" and "No Time for Comedy"—will be in the movies, with Bette Davis and Rosalind Russell filling the Cornell shoes. . . . Vivien Leigh and Laurence Olivier will be Mr. and Mrs. Olivier. . . . Air travel will be heavier than it's been any winter in America's history.

William Saroyan will perpetuate three plays which he tossed off during the dog days, and which no one can understand. But they will get good reviews—also which no one can understand. . . . Radio City will get a new tree.

Ethel Merman will be throwing dynamite over the footlights in "Panama Hattie" . . . The Metropolitan Opera will open and Larry Hart will spend the second act in the bar being much wittier than Verdi, or Wagner, or Puccini. . . . There'll be a lot of uniforms on the streets and in the bars. . . .

Darryl Zanuck will unveil more than $10,000,000 worth of celluloid in "The Great Profile," "Brigham Young," and "The Californian." . . . Girls in the Marguery at lunch will be wearing suits like boys, and girls at the Colony for lunch will be wearing hats like maniacs. . . . George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart will have another hit on the boards, a trifle called "George Washington Slept Here."

The lipstick half of the movie audiences will be sighing over Gary Cooper in "Meet John Doe" . . . LaMartinique will have a new policy—the club closed on Monday nights. . . . Gertie Lawrence will be singing music by Kurt Weill and Danny Kaye will be adding to the general whimsy.

Adelaide Moffett will have her baby and the papers will assign journalists to write tear-jerkers about its father, William Buckner, in prison. . . . The baseball fans at Toots Shor's will be football fans.

The Savoy-Plaza will have Hildegarde, and Hildegarde will have 90 new dresses. . . . An epidemic of psuedo-patriotic songs will be published—most of them with an eye to the Hit Parade, not the American flag. . . . The playboys will swap punches in El Morocco and the front pages will give blow-by-blows the next morning. . . .

Pelton Tops Field For 18 Holes In Golf Tourney

Clevelander Holds 4-Stroke Edge In Event

Former Champion Shoots 75 to Top Spreng In Ohio Seniors' Annual Classic.

BULLETIN

WESTBROOK COUNTRY CLUB—Forced to call off the second 18 holes of play in their annual tournament today because of heavy rain and the unplayable condition of the course, officials of the Ohio Senior Golf association voted today to award the 1940 title to Frank Pelton, Cleveland, whose 75 for yesterday's 18 holes was low. Pelton won the tournament in 1937 and 1938.

By CHARLES MARTIN, News-Journal Sports Editor.

WESTBROOK COUNTRY CLUB—Frank H. Pelton, veteran Cleveland golfer, holds a four-stroke advantage over the field today as the shotmakers wind up the 12th annual Ohio Senior tournament here.

Giving Old Man Par a tussle all the way, Pelton, who started late yesterday, toured the first 18 holes in 75 to take a lead over W. J. Spreng of Mansfield, who trailed with a 79.

Pelton, who annexed the championship in 1937 and 1938, pounded out a 37 on the first nine and then came in with a 38. Pelton and Spreng are in Class E—55 to 59 years, inclusive.

The defending champion, A. D. Wolfe of Columbus, followed close on the heels of the two leaders with an 83. Eight others, however, were under that total.

Club wielders who broke under the wire in 82 or better were D. E. Carey, Zanesville, 43-38—81; A. P. Lamneck, Columbus, 39-43—82, and E. C. Edwards, Toledo, 42-40—82, all in Class D; Forest Brundage, Toledo, 39-41—80; N. M. West, Lakewood, 40-41—81, and W. B. Foden, Cleveland, 38-44—82, in Class E, and F. F. Hull, Zanesville, 42-38—80, and E. G. Markert, Zanesville, 40-41—81, in Class F.

Spreng, his approach shots clicking to perfection, soared over the outside nine first and marked up six pars and a pair of "bogies" for a 38. He ran into trouble on the green during his second nine and piled up 41.

The total was low until the last foursome finished up late yesterday afternoon. Pelton didn't get started until noon and was one of the last shotmakers to turn in his score.

Emerson Weller was the only other Mansfield player to break 90. He chalked up 43-44 for an 87. Other Mansfielders and their scores were J. H. Finefrock, 50-47—97; L. W. Olson, 52-49—101; W. M. Weldon, 54-51—105, and H. S. Black, 57-53—110.

Dr. W. D. Inglis of Columbus was elected president for the 1941 season at a business meeting which followed the annual dinner at the club house last night.

G. W. Ritter of Toledo was elected as vice-president, while Ed Baxter of Mansfield was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the association. C. E. Ransome of Coshocton is the honorary president.

* * *

F. R. Fishback of Cleveland, retiring president, opened the business session and introduced three new members, among them Weller of Mansfield. Fishback later introduced George White, Marietta, former Ohio governor, who gave a brief talk.

Yankees' Drive Nets Them Two More League Victories

By JUDSON BAILEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

THERE is something catching about the New York Yankees' spirit.

They've already captured fans' imagination with a magnificent drive that has bagged 10 victories in their last 11 games, and they're liable to catch the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers.

In an entire stand against the four clubs in the western division, the only game the Yankees lost was a 1-0 squeeze-out to the Chicago White Sox. They polished off the St. Louis Browns, 10-3 and 6-5, in a doubleheader yesterday to show once more why they've been world champions four years. The second game went 13 innings.

With two out and two on in the ninth, Joe DiMaggio, who had been on the bench with a charley horse, went to the plate and smacked Elden Auker's first pitch for his 28th homer to tie the score.

The Tigers mowed down the Washington Senators in a doubleheader, 3-2 and 6-0, to advance within two games of the lead.

Schoolboy Rowe doubled across the deciding run in the first game of his 12th victory. Buck Newsom notched his 17th in the nightcap, abbreviated to six innings by darkness.

In the only other American league game, the Boston Red Sox were handed a 4-3 decision by Johnny Rigney, who walked Joe Cronin with the bases loaded in the ninth.

In the National league the Reds halted the Dodgers, 9-3, in a rain-drenched game.

The St. Louis Cardinals obtained exclusive possession of third place by shutting out the New York Giants, 5-0, with Fiddler Bill McGee pitching two-hit ball.

The Pittsburgh Pirates extended their winning string to eight straight by shutting out the Phillies, 4-0. Mace Brown held the tail-enders in check until the eighth, when Danny MacFayden was rushed to duty as the Phils led off with a couple of hits.

Sailor Bill Posedel shanghaied the Chicago Cubs with five-hit pitching to give the Boston Bees a 3-1 triumph.

The Steels is one of Ohio's leading softball aggregations and for the past three years have participated in the national softball tournament. Indians Open Series With Chicago Tonight

CHICAGO —(AP)— Their lead over the pack cut to two games by a third successive day of rain, the Indians arrived here today to open a three-game series with the White Sox under the lights.

The weather threatened again, but that was "okay" with Manager Oscar Vitt.

"If any of our games with the White Sox are washed out, we won't have to play 'em," the peppery pilot observed. "We don't meet them again after this series."

Bobby Feller was nominated to start for the Tribe, opposing Thornton (Lefty) Lee.

Rain yesterday washed out the Indians' double header with the Philadelphia Athletics. Cleveland gets a chance to make up these games at home Sept. 15 and 16.

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Cleveland's ace hurler, Bobby Feller, figures he's still learning and expects to profit from his mistakes in the current campaign.

"Certainly experience is the difference between my 1939 and 1940 records," said Feller as he packed to leave for Chicago. "A fellow who has a high, hard one and a good curve just rears back and throws, but there is more to this business than throwing.

"I can look back on last season and pick out games where I made glaring mistakes. Naturally, I'm not making those same errors this year.

* * *

"But next season I'll look back on this one and pick out different mistakes. It's the price you pay for youth but I'm satisfied to learn something every day, realizing eventually I'll reduce my mental errors to the minimum."

Green Bay Smothers Collegiate All-Stars, 45 to 28

Hutson Leads Attack

Brilliant End Shows Rivals How to Catch Aerials; Pros Take Edge.

By TOM SILER

CHICAGO—(AP)—Now the college boys know only too well why the Green Bay Packers and their unexcelled end, fleet Don Hutson, are the scourge of the National Football league.

The Packers put on one of the most sparkling exhibitions of passing in the history of football, pro or amateur, to whip the All-Stars, 45 to 28, in the seventh game of this series last night at Soldier Field. The victory gave the pros a three to two edge, two games being ties.

The 84,567 spectators, a record-breaking crowd, were shocked in the first minutes to see the amateurs drive to a touchdown in the wild-scoring fray. Amby Schindler of Southern California set up the tally with an intercepted pass, and then scored on a six-yard dash inside right tackle. Nile Kinnick, Iowa's sensational star of 1939, dropkicked the point and the All-Stars seemed to be off to a victory matching that of 1937 over the Packers.

Then the Packers struck. Cecil Isbell, one-time Purdue star, lost 19 yards on an attempted pass, putting the Packers on their own 21. Hutson, who holds all the league pass-catching records worth mentioning, then raced down the middle, took a perfect 51-yard pass on the run and footed the remaining 30 yards for the tying touchdown. It looked as easy as shooting fish in a barrel.

Less than two minutes later, the Packers recovered a fumble on the All-Stars' 26 and Isbell shot a touchdown pass to Carl Mulleneaux, an end. But the All-Stars refused to be daunted, driving 36 yards for the tying tally, Kenny Washington, U. C. L. A. Negro star, going over on a spinner.

The Packers scored again in three plays from their own 35. Arnold Herber, Green Bay's ace passer for a decade, tossed a short one to Andy Uram who galloped 46 yards for the score. Near the end of the period, Isbell hit Hutson in the end zone with a 35-yard pass. Kinnick and Banks McFadden of Clemson leaped into the air with Hutson in the scramble for the ball, but the pro receiver made an almost unbelievable catch.

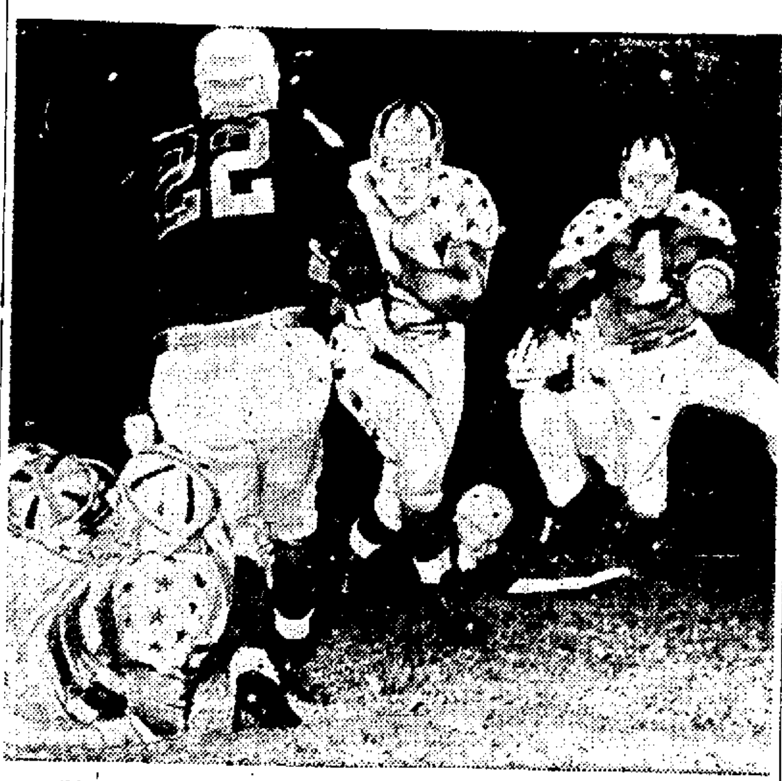
* * *

This gave the pros a 28-14 bulge, and the All-Stars never recovered.

CYCLE RACES SET

A number of Ohio's outstanding motorcycle riders are expected to participate in a professional race Sunday at the Sunset Ramblers yesterday, eight miles south of Galion and six miles north of Mt. Gilead, just off route 61. Six events are scheduled for the day and are scheduled to get under way at 2:30 p. m. Woody Kimes of Mansfield is expected to be among the entries.

All-Stars, Packers Battle



The 1940 football season was opened officially at Soldier Field, Chicago, when the college All-Stars battled the professional Green Bay Packers in the seventh annual Chicago All-Star game, watched by more than 84,500 fans. Here Nile Kinnick, Iowa's All-American halfback, No. 1, dashes for a gain through tackle behind the effective blocking of his teammates in the first quarter.

Cincy Adds To Advantage

Redlegs Take 9½ Game Lead in League Race.

CINCINNATI—(AP)— The Cincinnati Reds and the Brooklyn Dodgers get out their mudhooks today for another ball game, which may settle once and for all the crippled Brooks' claims to attention in the National League race.

A Cincinnati victory wouldn't clinch the pennant mathematically, but it would give the Reds a 9½ game lead with only 34 games left. Having lost Pee-Wee Reese and Cookie Lavagetto, or just half the regular infield, in the space of two weeks, the Dodgers are too weakened to permit much of a drive.

None the less, Manager Leo Durocher is throwing Luke Hamlin against Gene Thompson in a determined hope of getting going again.

Some of the more zealous of Red followers took yesterday's 9-3 drenching of the Dodgers to mean elimination from the race. The Reds pounced five Brooklyn pitchers, starting with Whitlow Wyatt, the loser, and ending with Vito Tamulis.

With Ernie Lombardi and Billy Myers knocking home runs and Paul Derringer getting a double, the Reds plowed up the muddy base-paths at regular intervals for Paul's 17th victory. It was his fifth try for No. 17.

* * *

Lavagetto, Dodger third baseman operated on for appendicitis yesterday, was reported in fairly good condition at Christ hospital today. Attendants said he spent a comfortable night.

Vander Meer's Coming Back

Johnny to Join Reds For Saturday's Contest.

By JOHN FEYE

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Johnny Vander Meer, the red-cheeked New Jersey lad, is coming back for another chance.

The Cincinnati Reds, whom he helped lift from the National league cellar to fourth place two years ago, are recalling him from their American association farm at Indianapolis, and he's due to show in tomorrow.

The first chapter of Vandy's game fight was written in mid-season of 1938. The Dutch rookie, then only 23 years old, had a fireball that the batters just couldn't touch.

The Reds went on an eastern tour and when they came back Vandy held the heart of Cincinnati in the hollow of his hand. There was glory enough in pitching that first no-hit, no-run game against Boston, and when he repeated in his next turn against Brooklyn, the glory was doubled and redoubled.

Vandy won 15 and lost ten games for the Reds that year. But toward the end of the season it was becoming apparent that something was wrong. He was missing the corners and losing some close games.

Last year his troubles multiplied. Along with the wildness, he developed trouble with his appendix and suffered an ear infection. Something else happened, too. Vandy seemed to have lost confidence. He didn't seem to have faith in his strong left arm any more.

It was no use. As the Reds fought their way to their first pennant in 20 years, Vandy, who might have been a hero of the drive, was lost amid the tumult and the shouting. He was optioned to Indianapolis.

There he seemingly found himself again. He took a regular turn on the mound and won six games and lost three for the Indians. He showed the old zip and confidence. So Johnny's coming back again to the majors for the third chapter. This probably is the last chapter and it's up to him to make it a long one.

Teams Fail to Score

Murphy Makes Debut on Hill for Mansfield; Rain Halts Game.

THE Mansfield Braves battled the Fostoria Red Birds to a scoreless tie at the Fairground park last night in a game called at the end of five and a half innings because of rain.

Although there were no runs scored, the contest was featured by the mound work of a young recruit by the name of Murphy of Loudonville, who reported to the Mansfield club yesterday.

In the six innings he worked, Murphy struck out 10 of the 18 Fostoria batters to face him, and issued only two bases on balls. He allowed only three hits, all singles. Two of those were by Stan Olesko, the second baseman.

* * *

Roy, the Fostoria moundsman, also turned in a brilliant pitching performance, allowing the Braves only one hit, a double by Gene Woodling, the Ohio State league's leading batter. Roy struck out five.

* * *

The Braves meet the Findlay Green Sox tonight at Findlay in a game to be played under the lights.

BOXING FANS STILL WAIT FOR WALKER-SIMMS MATCH

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Boxing fans here are still waiting for the Buddy Walker-Eddie Simms match, postponed once by rain and a second time by Walker's absence.

The Columbus heavyweight, scheduled to meet the Clevelander last night after a 24-hour weather delay, did not appear for weigh-in ceremonies and promoters said he had gone home with a sore throat.

THEATERS

Flynn as Daring Captain.

Errol Flynn, swash-buckling hero of many screen adventures, has one of his most glorious roles in "The Sea Hawk" which opens Saturday at the Ohio. The mighty sea battles, daring duels, magnificent court scenes and a tender love story are masterfully interwoven in this picture featuring Flynn and Brenda Marshall, Claude Rains, Donald Crisp, Flora Robson, Una O'Connor and Alan Hale head the large supporting cast.

Loretta Young in Comedy.

The new comedy "He Stayed for Breakfast" is to open Saturday at the Madison with Loretta Young and Melvyn Douglas in the leads. It is full of witticisms, hilarious situations and is worthy as a successor to her last comedy "The Doctor Takes a Wife." Eugene Pallette is seen as the unfortunate husband, Alan Marshall as the rival for Miss Young's affections, and Miss Una O'Connor as a cockney maid.

Jones Family Series.

The Jones family is seen in the 17th of their series, and this time at the Ritz in "On Their Own". Their pockets are empty but their hearts are full of fun as they storm California in an attempt to overcome the string of bad luck that laid up Pa Jones, and taken their home. The second attraction is "Ghost Valley Raiders," with Donald Barry in the lead. Lona Andre is cast in the feminine role opposite Barry.

Hectic Romance.

The hectic romance between a young couple who are forbidden by the girl's father to marry until the boy saves a thousand dollars provides a series of laugh-provoking incidents in the picture "Pop Always Pays" showing at the Majestic. Leading roles are played by Leon Errol, father, Marjorie Gateson, mother, Adele Pearce, daughter and Dennis O'Keefe, the boyfriend. The co-feature is "Wild Horse Valley," featuring Bob Steele.

Early Settling of West.

How a federal marshall brings law and order to a small frontier community during the early days of the West is vividly told in "The Marshall of Mesa City," George O'Brien's latest western drama which is showing at the Park. The story depicts the phase of the early settling of the West, in the warfare that raged between outlaws and peace officers who were fighting to bring order to the turbulent towns of the American frontier. The co-feature is "Curtain Call."

DAYTON CLIMBS OUT OF LEAGUE CELLAR

YOUNGSTOWN—(AP)— Dayton climbed right out of the Mid-Atlantic league cellar yesterday, after a day's sojourn there, by defeating Youngstown, 6 to 3.

Ray Hathaway allowed 12 hits, but was cautious with men on bases. Dayton got 13 hits off Grover Miller. Other games in the league were rained out.

NET TOURNEY STARTS

NEW YORK—(INS)—The national singles tennis tournament at Forest Hills, L. I., will get underway Saturday after being postponed by rain. Alice Marble was a top-heavy favorite to repeat as women's titlist while experts were predicting that Don McNeil, Kenyon college and Oklahoma City netter, would displace Bobby Riggs as the male winner.

TRIBUTE TO LANIER

MONTGOMERY, Ala (UP)—"The Cradle of the Confederacy" again has honored Sidney Lanier, the poet who was employed here as a hotel clerk just after the Civil War. A bronze marker to his memory has been placed in the historic Exchange hotel, where he worked. It was in this hotel that the first meeting of the Confederate cabinet was held.

Warden Permits Trinket Making And Sale in Pen

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — Warden Frank D. Henderson of the Ohio penitentiary has agreed to permit convicts to take up "mush faking" again.

The practice had been forbidden for many years, but the warden now is permitting 54 convicts to earn a small income through the sale of their handicraft—or in the prison parlance "mush faking"—to visitors at the penitentiary.

Henderson said his decision to allow the trinket making was a step toward abolishing "unemployment" in the penitentiary.

The group of convicts has been organized as a company, known as "The Industrial Arts company." The basement of the prison hospital is utilized as a workshop.

The products include jewel boxes, paintings and other articles, formerly on the penitentiary contraband list.

"Since I have been warden, one of my main objectives has been to put men to work," Henderson said.

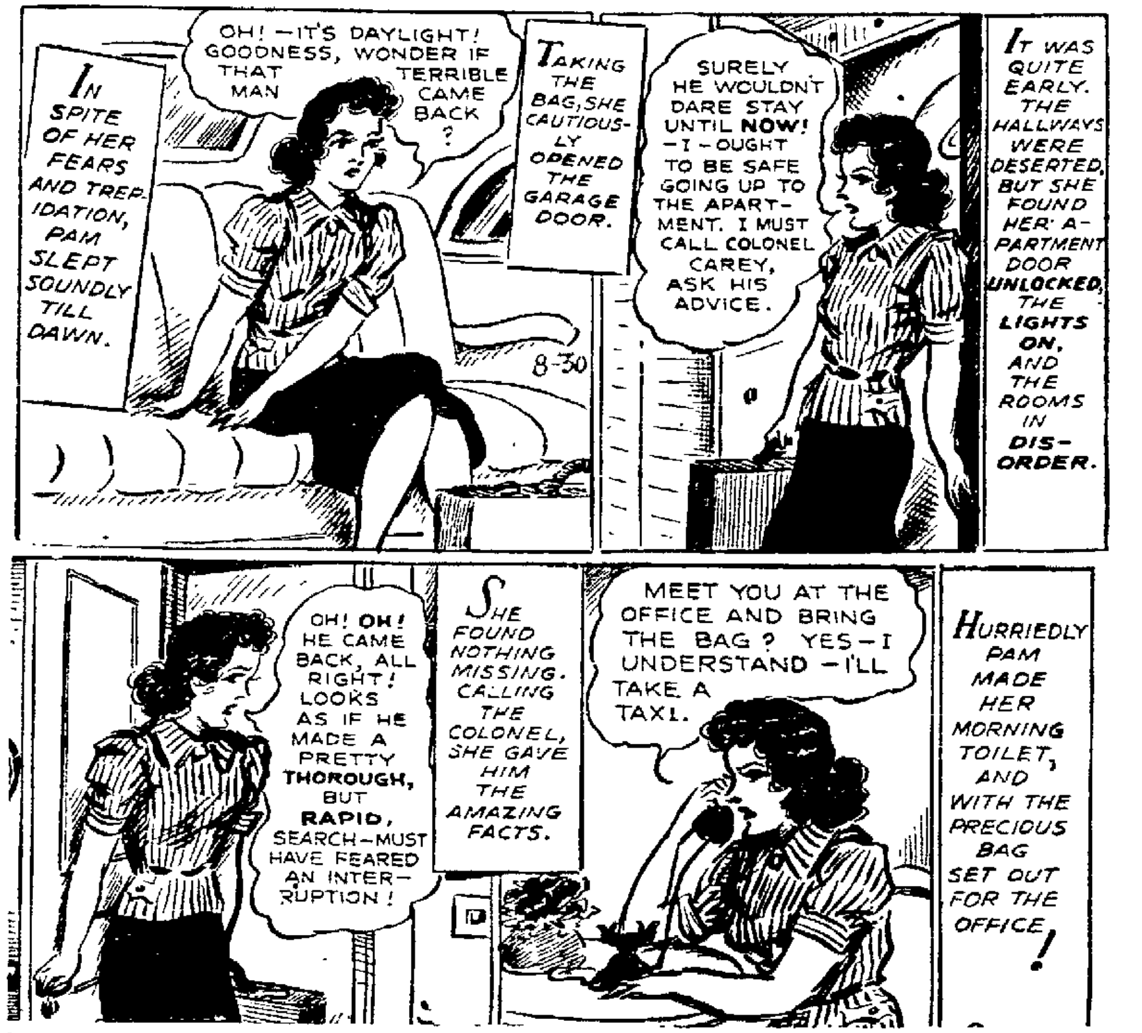
PAM— Morning.

By A. W. Brewerton



IN SPITE OF HER FEARS AND TREPIDATION, PAM SLEPT SOUNDLY TILL DAWN.
OH! —IT'S DAYLIGHT! GOODNESS, WONDER IF THAT TERRIBLE MAN CAME BACK ?
8-30
TAKING THE BAG, SHE CAUTIOUSLY OPENED THE GARAGE DOOR.
SURELY HE WOULDN'T DARE STAY UNTIL NOW! —I —OUGHT TO BE SAFE GOING UP TO THE APARTMENT. I MUST CALL COLONEL CAREY, ASK HIS ADVICE.
IT WAS QUITE EARLY. THE HALLWAYS WERE DESERTED, BUT SHE FOUND HER APARTMENT DOOR UNLOCKED, THE LIGHTS ON, AND THE ROOMS IN DISORDER.
OH! OH! HE CAME BACK, ALL RIGHT! LOOKS AS IF HE MADE A PRETTY THOROUGH, BUT RAPID, SEARCH—MUST HAVE FEARED AN INTERRUPTION!
SHE FOUND NOTHING MISSING. CALLING THE COLONEL, SHE GAVE HIM THE AMAZING FACTS.
MEET YOU AT THE OFFICE AND BRING THE BAG? YES—I UNDERSTAND —I'LL TAKE A TAXI.
HURRIEDLY PAM MADE HER MORNING TOILET, AND WITH THE PRECIOUS BAG SET OUT FOR THE OFFICE!

TRADERS LEAN TOWARD BUYING SIDE IN MARKET

Ticker Tape Near Standstill After Slight Budge; Gains Appear in 2nd Hour.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Traders did little in today's stock market but most leaned moderately toward the buying side.

After a slight bulge at a quiet opening the ticker tape virtually came to a standstill. Fractional gains, however, were in the majority near the second hour.

Many commission house customers decided to skip Friday and Saturday in favor of a lengthy Labor day holiday and much of the apathy was attributed to thin abscence. At the same time, those who showed up in boardrooms seemed more optimistic for British chances against the Nazis and this influence was said to have prompted some bidding here and there. In addition, the brightening business outlook was helpful and hopes revived congress would soon iron out wrinkles in the conscription and tax measures.

A prop to market sentiment was seen in the Dun & Bradstreet survey disclosing retail spending throughout the country this week rose to a peak level since last Easter and topped the comparable period a year ago by 7 to 13 per cent.

Cooler weather in most parts of the nation was credited with boosting merchandising activities.

Studied also was the forecast of the national industrial conference board that the current high rate of industry would be at least maintained and possibly increased in the next few months.

NAZI RAIDERS FAIL TO CRACK CITY'S DEFENSE

Waves of German Planes Meet Strong Resistance of British Fighters.

British planes shot down over England and only six German planes lost.)

Undeterred by their losses, the Germans apparently returned to the attack by another route after only a few hours of trying to force their way through the city's defenses from the southeast.

During the first raid battles raged from the outskirts of the London area all the way to the coast.

A second communique, issued by the air and home security ministries, said the Germans came over in three successive waves and were "scattered and driven back."

A "small proportion" of the raiders approached the London area, the communique said, but were unsuccessful in attempts to bomb airports surrounding the city.

"Bombs were dropped indiscriminately in districts of Kent and Surrey," it said. "Slight damage is reported and the number of casualties is small, but includes some killed."

Today's daylight attacks followed a night and early morning in which Britain had a relative "breathing spell," with London itself having only a "stand-by" warning. The most severe predawn attacks were reported in northwest England.

Some of the heaviest fighting during the half-hour before London's first raid in more than 30 hours was reported over the southeast, but fighting took place at such great altitude it was impossible for ground observers to follow its progress.

The British Press Association said the raiders which flew repeatedly over a northwest England town "dropped their bombs at random and some fell near a railway station." Incendiary bombs fell on one of the town's principal streets, and there was some damage to "houses and commercial property," a communique stated.

Nazis Report Objectives Hit.

BERLIN — (INS) — British ports, industrial plants, airplane factories and airfields were subjected to a heavy night attack by a powerful fleet of German bombers, the German high command announced today.

Blazing fires were left in many of the places attacked, especially in the Liverpool port area, the high command communique claimed.

In addition to Liverpool, docks and piers bombed at Dundee, Leith and Hartlepool. Industrial plants at Felixtowe airplane factories at Weybridge and Langley South, and airports in Lincoln and Suffolk also were subjected to heavy attacks.

The German communique confirmed that the aerial attacks on important military objectives in the interior of the British Isles are now being carried out mostly at night.

A total of 19 enemy planes were shot down in day time air battles over England and six barrage balloons were destroyed, the communique said. Seven German planes failed to return.

Italian Planes Bomb Malta, Kenya.

ROME — (AP) — Renewed air bombardment of the British Mediterranean island naval base of Malta and bombing of British troop concentrations in Kenya colony were reported today by the Italian high command.

A band of native Italian Somaliland troops were reported to have inflicted serious losses on British forces in a sudden attack toward Bunar.

Expect Attack In Middle East Soon.

LONDON — (INS) — The middle east may be the next scene of an early new Italo-German offensive. British military circles predicted today, admitting that a major attack on Egypt from Libya is expected.

They said that German troops probably will aid the Italians in this venture if it is undertaken. Large Italian mechanized forces are reported concentrated opposite the Egyptian frontier but British quarters pointed out that they are confronted with the problem of maintaining their supplies in a waterless desert.

PLANS PROGRAM

Seccalum park officials announced today that a special Labor day program would be staged at the park Monday.

The festivities will include a softball tournament with two teams from Bucyrus, one from Marion, and one from Galion participating.

Also on the program are the Mt. Zion High School band, a 15-piece dance orchestra and a fireworks display at 11 p. m.

LIKES HORSES

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Maj. Gen. Brice A. Disque, retired of New York says "mechanize the army all you want," but "don't give up the cavalry." He told reporters that "a horse doesn't run out of gasoline, can jump over a three-foot log and can swim a river."

PLANS EXAMS

Taft Takes Applications For Army, Navy Academies.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Ohioans seeking nomination to the United States military and naval academies may file applications with Senator Robert A. Taft until Sept. 7.

Taft said today he would conduct an examination and select applications to take the war and navy department tests for entrance to the academies.

RUMANIA GETS DEFENSE HELP AGAINST REDS

Bows to Axis Demands Over Transylvania Cession to Hungary.

is expected by mid-afternoon from Vienna where the German and Italian foreign ministers, Joachim von Ribbentrop and Count Galeazzo Ciano, have been conferring with Foreign Minister Mihail Manoilescu of Rumania and Premier Count Pal Teleky and Foreign Minister Count Istvan Csaky of Hungary.

Then the Rumanian crown council will meet to cinch the agreement.

The Rumanian general staff was reported to have advised the government to accept the Axis award at Vienna on the ground that the Rumanian army would be helpless to protect the country against possible Russian, Hungarian and Bulgarian attacks especially if these were backed by the strong airfleets of Germany and Italy.

The army, however, was ordered to be ready for any emergency.

King Carol was counselled in making his decision by hundreds of political personages who streamed through the palace doors until after dawn.

Government quarters said Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, minced no words at the Vienna conference, but told the delegates what had to be done.

The Vienna conference was called by Germany and Italy after Rumania and Hungary had failed to settle the Hungarian claim between themselves at recent negotiations at Turnu-Severin.

(German and Italian spokesmen denied they would "arbitrate" the quarrel at Vienna, stating they were only offering their good offices.)

Turkey Promises Aid to Greece.

ATHENS —(INS)— Turkey will lend Greece immediate armed assistance in event of attack by Italy, the Turkish envoy to Athens informed Premier John Metaxas today.

Metaxas later had a one-hour conversation with American Minister Lincoln MacVeagh and then saw King George.

Carol Gets Five Minutes to Decide.

LONDON— (INS) —King Carol of Rumania acceded to the Italo-German plan for cession of Transylvania to Hungary only when Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop, in a telephone call from Vienna to Bucharest, gave him five minutes to accept, it was reported in London today.

Von Ribbentrop said that both German and Russian troops would move into Rumania to force the settlement unless King Carol agreed to the solution within that period, the report said.

Aliens on Relief Rolls Here Apply For Citizenship

Relief Director J. B. Finney said today he believed all of the aliens receiving relief in Mansfield and Richland county had applied for citizenship papers in accordance with the state law regulating direct relief to aliens.

Finney said there were "only a few aliens" on the rolls adding that he had not made a check of the lists for several days.

A statewide survey of the relief lists showed today that at least 3,600 aliens are receiving direct relief, about 3,000 of them in Cleveland. The city relief department there announced that aliens who do not apply immediately for citizenship papers will be denied help.

At Toledo relief officials said 52 aliens were dropped from the rolls for failure to comply with the citizenship ruling.

The state welfare department said responsibility for enforcement of the alien law is a duty of the city and county relief officials.

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The United Automobile Workers union (CIO) mapped plans today to organize workers in the proposed 32,000,000 airplane engine factory to be erected at neighboring Lockland by the Wright Aeronautical Corporation.

R. J. Thomas, Detroit, union president, conferred here yesterday with Paul W. Fuller, regional CIO director, about potential organization of 12,000 to 15,000 persons expected to be employed in the plant.

After two more years he had saved enough to purchase a bicycle. Just a week later, he rented it for 25 cents to a stranger. Bike and stranger disappeared.

STALIN THREAT WORRIES AXIS

Hitler and Mussolini Brought Near Clash With Russia Over Vital Interests.

diplomatic control not through fear but by community of material interests.

Bulgaria and Hungary can hold what they have been allowed to grab only through Hitler's and peaceful severance of Rumanian Mussolini's good will.

If Russia allows this situation to continue, Stalin must confess himself defeated in the struggle for Balkan control. For it was announced recently in Moscow that Russia's influences in southeastern Europe must not be jeopardized. Today, however, the Slav is checked. The first open intimation that the check is backed by military power is contained in Rumania's announcement that Germany and Italy have guaranteed security of what remains of Rumanian territory.

Any such promise to Bucharest must be interpreted as a challenge to Russia. Stalin now will have to decide whether Hitler and Mussolini are in earnest or are bluffing. He would be taking serious risks if he attempted to annex more Rumanian territory at the expense of a war with Germany, not only because of German military superiority but also because he might find himself involved in a simultaneous war in the Far East.

But Hitler and Mussolini, too, would be moving into a highly explosive zone if they engaged in hostilities against Russia while conducting their war against the British empire.

Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin all face a quandary and the uncertainties which now exist are beneficial to Britain. Germany's full offensive power cannot be concentrated against the British. Hitler now must hold back heavy reserves because of the Russian enigma.

Other ways than warfare may be open to Stalin to cause new confusions for Germany and Italy. A revolution in Rumania might be fomented, leading to a general Danubian war with Russia urging Bulgaria to obtain more of Dobrudja than has been awarded her. It has been a consistent Russian policy to fish in such troubled waters.

LIST GONGWER

Seneca County Election Board Bows to Neffner.

TIFFIN — INS — Complying with orders of Secretary of State George Neffner, the Seneca county board of elections today sent notices to county boards of the 13-31st senatorial district to place the name of Ivan R. Gongwer of Upper Sandusky on the November ballot as the Democratic senatorial nominee.

Neffner overruled the Seneca county board's contention that there was no nomination inasmuch as Gongwer had not received a plurality vote. R. R. Ackerman of Galion who died a few days prior to the May primary, received the most votes.

At the present time he is head of a national association of Jewish veterans of the World war.

A caucus meeting of all chapter presidents and secretaries at the Memorial building at 4 p. m. Sunday will conlcude the business sessions for the day. The highlight of the three-day reunion will be the banquet at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, at the hotel.

HOUSE PASSAGE OF DRAFT SEEN

Backers Predict Overwhelming Approval of Measure In Vote Next Week.

more committeeman was expected to sign.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders, however, were saying that the legislation would win by a smashing margin before another week passed.

While waiting for the debate to start, the house first had to dispose of senate amendments to the $5,133,628,277 defense appropriation bill carrying funds to start construction of 200 warships for a "two-ocean" navy and more than 14,000 airplanes. The senate, in a speedy performance yesterday, completed consideration of the bill in a single day.

The senate changes, among other things, would appropriate $100,000,000 for housing for defense workers, $13,065,000 for improvements at nine naval yards and training stations, and an increase of $10,000,000 for naval aviation.

There was a possibility that the senate changes might be accepted or the bill sent to conference today, because leaders arranged to skip house sessions over the Labor Day holiday. President Roosevelt has asked haste on the bill, so that the planes and other defense equipment it provides for can be ordered without further delay.

In getting ready for the Burke-Wadsworth bill debate, neither party planned a poll of its members, as is customary before votes on major legislation. The Democrats said sentiment on their side of the aisle was overwhelming; Republicans said that "it is not a party matter; it will be every man for his own ideas."

The decisive senate vote for conscription Wednesday and final house committee action yesterday set the stage for Chairman May (D-Ky) of the committee to go before the house rules committee, with full administration support, to ask legislative right-of-way on the floor for the controversial measure.

May said he would ask for procedure permitting two days of general debate on the whole question and unlimited consideration of amendments to the bill. He estimated that a total of four days would be required in all.

CHAPTER V

The cool house and the sunny street were as quiet as they had been the day before. Carol read a little after luncheon, wrote two letters to the girls who had been in training with her and called Alan.

His voice brought him suddenly near. "I was going to call you," he said. "A college classmate of mine is passing through town. His wife is with him. I'd like them to meet you and I'l like to do something in the way of entertaining them. The club is the best bet, I suppose, on Saturday night."

Would Edwina be out of the hospital by Saturday, two days away? Had it occurred to him that he would probably see her? Should she toss a bomb again and remind him? Every impulse shouted "No!" Alan was like a man tormented by a crime he had not confessed and only by seeing Edwina again would he be rid of his obsession.

"That's fine. But Saturday night is two nights away. Don't I see you before then?"

He laughed "Tomorrow night—as usual."

"It's a date."

He did not mention the newspaper account of the accident. Drawing the chintz-covered chair near the window and taking up the book again, she thought that not until now had she thought of Alan as a man who had been married before. And though that brief unfortunate marriage had been one in name only, she thought of Edwina with natural curiosity. Did Edwina love Alan still? That seemed scarcely likely when one considered Edwina's worldly, glamorous life since she had left Newton and the men with whom her name had been linked. Wisely her father had said. "Nothing remains the same." Edwina Burke, a legend, had sprung to life. Edwina, who could say of Alan, "I was his wife," had come back and her coming had cast a shadow . . .

An automobile horn shocked her out of her meditations, a loud horn, which was being pressed every few seconds by an impatient hand.

Looking out the window, she saw Norman sitting at the wheel of the sleek black car.

Seeing her, he shouted. "Emergency! Come quickly . . . No fooling . . ." But his smile betrayed him.

Again he shouted above the penetrating sound of the horn," I'll keep this up until you come down . . ."

She came down quickly, amusement mixed with annoyance. He had probably awakened all the babies in the neighborhood and all the napping housewives. Alan was thoughtful of people but Norman Alexander sat and waited for what he wanted to come to him.

Coming out, the sunlight mixed with her hair as she crossed the street, quiet aagin, to the car. Looking like a small boy who knows he is about to be reproached, he smiled at her, started the motor and said, "Get in. Is this any way to treat an emergency? We'll have to overlook your not being in uniform this time."

"You're not serious."

"Never more serious in my life. Come on. Don't waste my time."

She stepped in beside him and quickly the car rolled down the street. How odd, she thought suddenly, to see a proud head of unruly, black hair rather than a proud head of smooth blond hair when she turned around.

With not the slightest apologetic tone in his voice, Norman said, "We're going on a picnic. I've been wanting to go on a picnic for years and no one would go with me. You're the only person I know in this town and I had to resort to kidnaping. The stuff's in the rumble seat, the stuff to eat, I mean. Where do we go from here?"

It would be silly to protest and to demand to be taken back because Alan's ring glittered on her finger. Norman's recklessness was infectious, she thought, as she pictured the shady picnic grounds. Why not? What harm? She would tell Alan and perhaps he and Norman would like each other and play some tennis and golf together. And it was exhilarating to be out on the open country road, her hair blowing back from her forehead, the fragrance of growing things sweet in her face.

"A lady with a heart," he said, turning his eyes from the straight ribbon of road to hers. "I knew you would be."

"Since Newton is noted for its hospitality . . . turn left at the next dirt road. About a mile in are the picnic grounds. There are trees and there's an old quarry that's filled with water and looks like a lake now. Last year the city built bath houses there."

"Sounds perfect except that we didn't bring our bathing suits. A good guide, I picked . . ."

"How do you like your new home?"

"Swell. Little stone bungalow with a veranda al. about it. Good bachelor quarters. Nothing feminine about it. And I've found a houseboy named Benson who can really cook and who likes horses. I think I'm going to like it here."

* * *

She had expected to find the grounds thickly peopled, but it was not yet summer, the schools were still in session and obviously to no one except Norman had it occurred that it was picnic-time.

Bringing the car to a stop beneath a grove of trees, he asked, "Hungry? I'm famished. Must be the fresh air . . ."

"The word 'picnic' makes me hungry . . ."

He had bought enough to feed a dozen hungry people. Carol found a smooth, mossy knoll beside the water and spread the red and white checkered cloth while he brought the luncheon from the car and then dropped down on his knees beside her. For a time he gave his complete attention to the food and to his surroundings. Overhead a chorus of birds began and the thick trees fanned coolness. Norman breathed as if he were drinking in the air and his eyes moved heavenward to a placid blue sky.

"Nice," he said, nodding. "You can take yourself apart and put yourself together again, leaving out a few superfluous pieces—in a place like this. You can think. You can feel that you are living." Then the dark eyes, smiling, met hers. "Will you cook when you get married?"

"I shouldn't feel that I was a bride unless I cooked."

"Very much in love with him?"

"Terribly."

He looked at her soberly. "Why?"

She sat up straight. No one had ever asked her before why she loved Alan though she had told herself often.

"For all the things he is," she said. "It wasn't one of those swift things that takes the earth from under you. It's something we built until it's perfect. I love him because he's clean and fine and honest. I want to walk beside him all my life, proud and happy. I'm not afraid of giving my life to him. In a hospital you see a good deal of life and people of all classes."

Speaking soberly again he said, "You're brand-new to me. It isn't that the girls I know in New York and Long Island aren't 'nice' girls. They are. But they seem to lack that something, that essential, mysterious something, that makes a man fall in love." A smile twisted his mouth. "It's fairly easy for me to fall in love when the music is playing. But the next morning after a cold shower I'm over it. It was just a part of the party of night before."

"You're more serious than I thought you were."

"I'm a lot of things you don't know I am. Cigaret?" When they were smoking, he lay back and cushioned his head with one arm and looked up through the trees. "I grew up in a museum of a house. My grandfather's house. My father was killed in France in 1918 and my mother died shortly after that. I've had a fortunate life. After college I went abroad, seeing things, meeting people and in general heartily enjoying myself.

"When I came back, I went through a phase of pool and debutantes and showgirls. My grandfather, a wise and grand old chap, believed in getting the play out of one's system before settling down to a desk and one woman. After he died, home became an apartment and I became what I was trained to be, an architect. Autobiography in a nutshell. In short me, to date." He looked at her then. "By the way, I'm going to the hospital tonight to see Edwina Burke. Want to come along?"

"I can't. I help my father during office hours." She thought: Tonight will be the beginning of a love affair between you and Edwina Burke that will keep Newton talking all summer. You're two of a kind. Everything has been made easy for you two. Everything has come to you . . . "I think we'd better be getting back."

"Must we? Will you come again, Carol?"

"I can't promise you."

"You care what people will say—not your father or your fiance . . ."

"In a place like this you must care. Everyone knows every one else. I'd never do anything to embarrass Alan. Alan Harding is his name. You're going to meet scores of people, you know . . ."

"That's what I'm afraid of."

He drove back slowly. Already her mind, absorbed in him only a short time before, took up the normal schedule of her life. Tonight, tomorrow night with Alan, Saturday night at the club . . . There was room for no one else, certainly not for Norman even as an amusing friend.

"You might," he said, "give me your thoughts until I deliver you, safe and sound, at your doorstep. Day dreaming?"

"It's a grand day for it. I'm glad you kidnaped me. There are a lot of girls here who'd like to be kidnaped. I dare say you won't be long in finding them."

"No one who read this morning's paper could forget it or hold it against you."

"Ouch!"

When the car stopped before her house, Carol said, "I'd like you to meet Alan and my father," and added with a smile, "Norman, Alan plays good golf and tennis. Father doesn't play good golf but he plays often."

He seemed scarcely to be listening. Putting the car in gear he gave her the already familiar mocking smile and said, "Goodbye, darling."

She did not hear her father call her. Standing on the sidewalk, watching the sleek car disappear, she was regretting that she would probably not see him again unless she saw him at the club with Edwina Burke. That seemed so certain, Norman and Edwina, and the certainty dispelled the shadow she had felt. Suddenly she knew she was grateful that he had come and she wondered if she would ever have the opportunity to tell him.

Responding at last to her father's voice, she went in thinking as she closed the door behind her that she was forever shutting out Norman from her life as he, when he walked into Edwina's hospital room tonight, would forever shut her, Carol, out of his life . . ."

GOES TO COURT IN WATER SCRAP

Land Owner Says He Owns Lines But That City Seeks To Control Them.

Reid D. Painter, president of the Painter Confection company, Mansfield, took a dispute with the city waterworks department into common pleas court today, asking the court to give him exclusive control of water lines in the South Hills subdivision, south of the city.

Painter, who has extensive property holdings in the new residential district along Lexington avenue, contends that he installed all of the water lines in the South Hills district and should have control of them. He claims, however, that the city now wants to regulate tapping of the lines without his permission.

Painter contends that he installed 5,800 feet of lines and pays a rate in excess of the city rate for water service from the city mains.

In his action against the city, he asks that he be declared the owner of the lines, that he be given exclusive control of them, and that no one else be permitted to connect with them without his permission.

Painter is represented by Attys. Weldon and Huston and H. H. Schettler.

Mansfield News-Journal
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER
MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1940.

A Connecticut company announced sale of parachutes on a part-payment plan—just drop around each month.

Quite a change from old-time ideas when August weather entitles it to designation as a month of infinite variety.

Kansas City is cutting patches of weeds used as hideouts by criminals—thus endangering every malefactor hidden behind a weed.

Hitler's 'Reprisal' Threats

GREAT BRITAIN is now doing something that was neglected by the Allies in the first phase of the World war—carrying the war into Germany by air attacks on military objectives and even sending residents of Berlin scurrying to air raid shelters, as has been common to Londoners for some weeks.

If anything associated with Europe's present war could be regarded as amusing it would be Hitler's threat of "reprisals" against the British for their bombing visits to the vicinity of Berlin.

Hitler's methods, to date, have been a total disregard of all the rules of so-called "civilized" warfare and the present assault on England shows no indication of considering the lives, safety and property of civilians.

Nor did the ruthless march of his Nazi hordes through Holland, Belgium and France display a regard for civilian rights which might now justify claims for exemption of Germany from the same kind of treatment.

Disclosures following the 1918 armistice were to the effect that Germany might soon have experienced actual warfare in its own borders and that an air raid on Berlin was among the planned ventures.

The armistice, however, prevented such a calamity, and the fighting and destruction was confined largely to France. After the armistice was signed, and hostilities ceased, German soldiers returned home to a country that had escaped the devastation of the war, with many of them unable to realize they had been beaten.

Without discounting the savagery and viciousness that Hitler and his associates can carry into warfare, his present threats of "reprisals" must be regarded as ridiculous and are unlikely to have any deterrent effect on Great Britain's determination to trade aerial blows with Nazi Germany whenever this is deemed expedient.

Prize-Winning Stock at Fair

EXTENT to which livestock breeders in Richland and vicinity counties won recognition at the Ohio state fair this week indicates the progress that has been made in this part of the state since a few pioneering enthusiasts took the initiative in encouraging farmers hereabouts to go in for purebred livestock in preference to the mixed breeds that had long been common to this and other sections of the state.

Well remembered among the early advocates of livestock betterment in Richland county is the late Reid Carpenter, whose special attention was given to the importation and breeding of shorthorn cattle, and whose annual shorthorn sales will be recalled by older residents as having attracted buyers from all parts of the country.

Betterment of Richland county livestock has now been expanded to include horses, sheep and swine, as well as cattle, and the preference for purebred poultry of individually favored varieties can be noted on a trip in any direction from Mansfield.

From the haphazard methods of earlier times farming has been gradually developed along scientific lines of production, with increasing realization on the part of boys and girls reared on farms that agriculture offers unlimited opportunities for those who are equipped with the intelligence, education, ambition and energy to take advantage of them. Along this line the 4-H clubs, made up of young people in farm communities, have been of inestimable value.

The series of farm articles, which has been among the features in the Sunday News-Journal for the past three months, has served to give an idea of the extent and diversity of agricultural interest and activity among Mansfield and Richland county residents—and the potentialities of the agricultural resources of this north-central Ohio area are vastly greater than more than a few realize.

The Value of Money.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

THEY won't give young Bob an allowance. Is he, then a wild spendthrift? Not at all. He's a normal, happy, affectionate, well-intentioned young American of eighteen. Periodically he raises Cain, as all healthy youngsters do. Gets cock-eyed ideas. Gets in a jam. But it's never serious. He's naturally a good kid, and his parents are proud of him.

Then why won't they give him an allowance?

Because, say they, he "doesn't know the value of money."

But what IS the value of money?

Is it valuable because it's the basis of bank rolls? Is it to be saved and treasured for the wealth it may produce?

Is THAT the supremely important lessons which young Bob must some day learn about money? And is it foolish, if not actually dangerous, to let him handle money before he has learned that lesson?

Or has money quite another value?

Is money important, not because of the cash it represents, BUT BECAUSE OF THE EXPERIENCE IT CAN PURCHASE?

Should money be used, not to increase bank accounts, but to buy wisdom and prompte growth?

"But suppose," cry Bob's worried parents, "he doesn't use money to 'buy wisdom?' Suppose he uses it for foolish things—wasted it? Then some day he might have to do without!"

Which would probably be the best thing in the world for him, my dears.

THE BEST LESSON YOU CAN LEARN FROM ANY DOLLAR IS HOW TO DO WITHOUT IT.

A WASTED DOLLAR OFTEN BRINGS IN FAR BIGGER DIVIDENDS THAN A SAVED ONE.

THE QUICKEST WAY TO GET WISE TO YOURSELF AND LIFE IS TO MAKE A FOOL OF YOURSELF—AS YOUTH WILL ALWAYS DO IF PARENTS HAVE THE SENSE TO PERMIT IT.

Will the average youngster waste an allowance? Will he buy fool things with it? Unless he's a young monster, he certainly will! But what of it—if thereby he learns to use his head and control his impulse?

Why is life? What is the most important thing in life? Cash in hand? Possession? Or growth?

Growth—that is the greatest thing in life. Growth of intelligence, growth of character.

AND GROWTH IS WORTH ANYTHING IT COSTS.

Does that mean that a youngster should be allowed to run hog-wild with dad's bank roll? Of course it doesn't. But it does mean that a youngster should be allowed to learn how to use his money—AND HIMSELF by using it—as he learns how to use hammer and saw and gun, under friendly guidance, but being allowed to make his own blunders, and being forced to face his own consequences.

What is the value of money? The value of money is—GROWTH and nothing else but.

But just where does that put Mother and Dad? They claim that young Bob doesn't know the value of money.

DO THEY?

Bob thinks they don't.

"Look at all they could have bought with their money," says Bob: "the swell places they could have gone; the swell things they could have done! But all they care about is saving their old wad. They think if a fellow's rich that's all there is to life."

Is it? Is a man wise if he passes up the shining adventures and the great risks for the saks of a few bonds, some cowardly safety, some stupid respectability?

"FOR WHAT SHALL IT PROFIT A MAN IF HE SHALL GAIN THE WHOLE WORLD AND LOSE HIS OWN SOUL?

Timely Editorial

Bad News for the Sedentary.

It's downright discouraging to learn from the chiropractors that we city folk have better backbones than our country cousins. That means that our excuse to the wife for not weeding the garden, mowing the lawn or putting that trunk in the attic no longer has any standing insofar as it alludes to the natural disabilities of a sedentary life.

The average office man figures his backbone is strong enough to see him through an occasional game of golf, but not for any more strenuous endeavors.

Now that urban spinal columns have been given a high rating, the lazy man-of-the-house is going to be hard put to find a new excuse for avoiding back-bending tasks. But, come to think of it, backbending causes blood to rush to the head bringing about dizziness, headaches and spots in front of the eyes. That's an angle. It won't do any harm to try it out anyway.—Minneapolis Star-Journal.

Find New Ally In Cancer War.

—By DR. CLENDENING

I AM ASKED to announce that a prize competition for a poster for the anti-cancer campaign is offered by the National Alliance of Art and Industry, Inc. The prizes range from $1,000 to $10. Detailed information can be obtained from the Secretary, Poster Competition, National Alliance of Art and Industry, Inc., 119 East 19th Street, New York, N. Y.

In connection with the campaign to treat cancer, I have also an announcement from the University of Pennsylvania regarding the much publicized cyclotion, as a weapon in the treatment of cancer. The medical department of the University is installing a cyclotion which will be used for cancer research.

Beam of Neutrons.

By means of conditioning atoms of heavy hydrogen so that single electrons are torn from the atom and deflected in a steady stream so that they can bombard various chemicals rendering them radio-active, these can be administered to patients.

Besides that the cyclotion can be adapted to another method of treating cancer which is the direct application to the patient of a beam of neutrons, produced by placing in the target chamber at the end of the projector a plate of berylium from which the neutrons are released by the bombardment stream directly into the malignant tissue.

The cyclotion at the University of California is used for treatment purposes only two days a week owing to the demands of various fields of physical research, and those interested in the possibilities of the cyclotion are very happy that the University of Pennsylvania equipment will be available for more extensive trials.

The University of Pennsylvania equipment will furnish energy equivalent to 200 pounds of radium—which is tremendous considering that in the world there are today less than two pounds of purified radium. Radium is worth about $10,000,000 a pound.

WHOOPING COUGH vaccination would be more worth while trying if there were not so many shots required. So writes a questioning parent. But the strength of the vaccine has been stepped up and few injections are now required. Two injections made on each of these treatment days used to be the rule. Now only three, instead of six, injections are required.

One-Minute Test Answers.

1. Under Queen Victoria, when [illegible] there were [illegible] prisons in England, at her death there were less than 8,000.
2. No. The warm, moist temperature prevalent just before a thunder storm will tend to sour the milk more quickly than normal conditions, however.

Great Britain Barricades Coast; Attack May Be Through Ireland

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Not much has leaked past the censors, but the British have been busy digging an extensive series of barricades along the coast of England, so that Nazi troops when they land will face a mass of barbed wire and trenches reminiscent of World War I.

This line extends from Dover in the south of England up to the Midlands, and includes machine gun nests, light artillery and heavy artillery emplacements, together with trenches and breastworks.

The trenches are not very deep and are of the World war type, but American observers who have seen them figure that the British system, which covers almost every inch along the coast, will be a deadly obstacle to Nazi invaders.

Looking back on the French defenses, it will be recalled that France had almost nothing along the Belgian border, and that the artillery emplacements which General Weygand hastily threw up were few and far between. The French did not even use barbed-wire entanglements or dig trenches. German tanks moved too fast for them.

In invading England, however, the Nazis will not have tanks in any great quantities. Some may be landed, but it probably will be impossible to land entire mechanized divisions.

However, the thing to figure on in dealing with Hitler is the element of surprise. He used it against France, by aiming his blow through Belgium and the Ardennes forest where the French never expected an attack. Thus, by getting behind the Maginot line, he rendered it valueless.

In attacking Britain, Hitler may be expected to use Ireland as another Belgium, and attack from the rear, thus rendering the British breastworks along the Channel as impotent as the French Maginot line.

From the Heart.

TALL, plain-talking Representative James Wadsworth of New York, co-author of the compulsory military training bill, is now busy preparing for the bitter floor battle facing conscription in the house.

Every night, while pacing around the flower beds in the garden of his Georgetown home, he rehearses the speech which will open the historic debate. The other night, in the midst of a stirring passage, he suddenly stopped, then, in a loud, sharp tone, exclaimed:

"Will the bellowing member from Milwaukee please pipe down!"

Note—Doubtless he was referring to bulky, one-time Socialist John C. Shafer of Milwaukee, noted in the house for his foghorn voice, penchant for interrupting speakers, and rabid isolationism.

Court Vacations.

JUSTICE HUGO BLACK is the only member of the supreme court who remained in the Capital throughout the summer. He divides his time between reading briefs of pending cases and working in the large garden of his home across the Potomac in Alexandria, Va. . . . Chief Justice Hughes is vacationing in the Canadian Rockies at Jasper Park, Alberta. From there he will go to Skytop, Pa., for a few weeks and then will visit his son, Charles Evans, jr., New York attorney, before returning to Washington . . . Three court members spent their vacations as they have for many years. Justice Roberts on his Pennsylvania farm, Justice Stone on Isle-au-Haute off the coast of Maine, and Justice Frankfurter at Chatham, on the Massachusetts coast. . . . Justice Reed is putting in the summer at a cottage on Long Island. . . . Acrid anti-New Deal Justice McReynolds is enjoying the luxuries of the sumptuous summer estate of wealthy, socialite Mrs. Jacob L. Loose at Sea Rocks, Gloucester, Mass. . . . Justice Frank Murphy has been resting at Harbor City, Mich., and Justice Douglas, "baby" member of the court, is fishing in Washington state.

Army's Short Pants.

A CERTAIN large textile company has just learned, to its sorrow, that it doesn't pay to try any tricks on Donald Nelson, hard-hitting defense procurement co-ordinator.

The army, preparing for its forthcoming large expansion, announced bids for 1,000,000 pairs of "shorts" to be made out of a specified type of cloth. Brig. Gen. Clifford L. Corbin, chief of the Quartermaster Corps Supply Division, who collaborates closely with Nelson sent him copies of the specifications.

Nelson, one time executive of Sears, Roebuck, is one of the greatest merchandisers in the country. He knows all the ins and outs about buying and selling. So he made a quiet investigation and discovered two interesting facts: That a certain textile firm had obtained a corner on the specified cloth, and that it had boosted the price 1½ cents a yard.

Nelson immediately informed General Corbin, and the two men put their heads together—with the result that the specifications were changed to another type of cloth, just as good and not cornered by any one firm.

So the textile company still has its cloth and the army will get the 1,000,000 shorts it wants without being gouged.

Note—This isn't the only instance where close co-ordination between General Corbin and Donald Nelson has saved the government money. By placing raincoat orders with factories at a time when they were slack, the two officials got the lowest price the army has had to pay in many years.

All or Nothing.

REASON for Roosevelt's request to congress for special legislation permitting Jesse Jones to be both loan administrator and secretary of commerce was that this was the only condition on which the wily Texan would accept the cabinet post.

It was also the reason for that unusual White House announcement that Jones had been offered Harry Hopkins' job but still was undecided about taking it.

Jones has long been anxious to drape a cabinet mantle around his broad shoulders, and put on a tremendous undercover drive to land the treasury portfolio before it went to Morgenthau. But Jesse wasn't so eager for the title of secretary to be willing to swap it for the vast power he wields as federal loan administrator.

No one knows better than he that as a result of the government reorganization last spring, the commerce department is pretty much an ornate but empty shell. Also, no one knows better that there are plenty of administration insiders who would love to ditch him as loan administrator.

This is because of his tight-fisted, banker-minded policies. Only a few weeks ago he clashed with the defense commission, refusing to make loans to expand industrial production for defense purposes—although this is the president's fixed policy and congress passed special legislation for the purpose.

As secretary of commerce, Jones would have a fancy title but no real power. Much as he loves titles, Jesse loves power more. So suspecting a secret scheme to kick him upstairs, he refused to budge unless he also was able to hold on to the multi-billion dollar loan administration moneybags as well.

Note — Reason Roosevelt was forced to give in is that Jones is the most powerful one-man lobby on Capitol Hill. He can get anything he wants out of congress and has been doing a magnificent job for Roosevelt in getting certain key appropriations passed.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Mr. I. J. Fox is a wealthy furrier in New York who has a weakness for cinema talent. He likes to see the glamor actresses all dolled up in his expensive jackets and he likes also to see his name in the headlines. He pays out lots of good coarse money to achieve both these ends by styling coats exclusively for various cinema figures and by advertising lavishly in the newspapers and on the air.

The other night we went out to the Riviera to see the new show and we got there just as the roof was being rolled back. The Riviera is a very beautiful place at Ft. Lee, N. J., just across from George Washington bridge, overlooking the Hudson river. The roof, if the engineer presses the right button, noiselessly slides back, leaving an oval of star-filled sky for the customers to look at.

We were enjoying this spectacle when an airplane by chance appeared overhead, trailing an advertisement of Mr. Fox's furs in lights. It flew right over the open oval, where the customers couldn't miss it. Lazily it circled a few times, then disappeared in the direction of Nantucket.

By coincidence also we noticed that the man who sat at the table on our right was Mr. I. J. Fox himself. He seemed utterly fascinated with what he saw. He couldn't take his eyes off the plane. We haven't any idea who the pilot was, but we can tell you that not even Dick Byrd could have timed his arrival any neater. After that, for at least one customer in the place, the things that happened on the stage were wholly and altogether anti-climactic.

IN THE movies, pearl divers usually are beach boys, but in the Dutch East Indies they are girls. . . . Reason: girls are supposed to have deeper lungs than men and can remain under water longer. It's little items of information like this that one picks up from Will Yolan, who is handling a convention of pearl syndicate men in New York. Some of the pearls they bring back, says Will, would knock your eye out. One of the exhibits of the convention is an all-pearl gown, containing 61,111 pearls. It is valued at $75,000.

AS this 31st day of August puts in its limp, desultory appearance only eight shows remain on Broadway and five are musicals. It is ebb tide for the legitimate theater but in less than two weeks the new season will be under way. The theaters at the moment may be empty and dusty, but rehearsal halls are hives of shouting directors and anxious actors, preparing for the getaway. This is a tense period in any actor's career. He never knows until the morning after the opening night whether his efforts will lead to the fulfillment of dreams or to a bleak two-week dismissal announcement on the backstage bulletin board.

Taking part in this scene has been Maxwell Anderson, who, operating freely, has interviewed more than 250 actors with an eye to filling an important role in his new drama "Journey to Jerusalem." It will be the Playwrights Company's first 1940-41 offering. Other members of the company working on new dramas are Elmer Rice and S. N. Behrman.

A Farmer's Diary

Chestnut Burs

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I WALKED through several woodlands before I found a chestnut sprout mature enough to grow any burs. Then on the topmost branch of a slender sprout upon a thinly wooded slope I saw two normal spiny green pods. Quickly I bent it over and broke off the stem that held the nuts so I could carry them more easily.

Tall gray leafless trunks stand in all these woods as a token of what has vanished from our rugged hills. Often in the east, after a steady October rain, I have picked up a peck of chestnuts under a single tree. We dried them on the mantel above the fireplace. The soft fresh kernels would shrink and grow hard and sweet. Oftentimes we put them into the glowing coals and waited for them to crack and burst, then drew them out. They were tasty, fragrant morsels.

Every local store, in autumn, had bushels, heaped full, on display. They shipped them to the city.

When my grandfather cleared land he always left promising young chestnut trees in every field. When I saw them first they were tall, with lateral branches spreading far around. Every fall even from a distance, one saw the dark green prickly burs in clusters over all the tree. When killing frosts arrived along these mountain sides the knots of burs would assume a reddish brown color and begin to open the side opposite the stem. Each day four divided portions of the needled covering would roll back farther, and show more of the velvety soft cradle that enclosed the fruit.

We waited for rain and high wind to bring down the autumn leaves in showers, and the chestnuts too. I helped to gather bushels every season. Then maggots infested and destroyed more than half the crop and ravenous blight bore down upon the trees in all the land, and strangled the life from every chestnut tree. Not one is left to tell the story to present and future generations. Only straggly sprouts emerge from the base of the trunk and live a year or two, then die of the same disease.

No more will country boys fill their pockets with dried chestnuts as they trudge to school. Only in memory now will the older generation enjoy those lovely fruitful groves and the delicious flavor of crunched chestnuts.

I have these rare twin buds before me in a vase. The summer bloom, a reddish spike, stands stiffly up between. They have a piquant, robust odor that brings to me a bit of poignant recollection.

Wife's Night Out Climaxed by Killing of Husband

CONFLICTING STORIES TOLD OF SHOOTING

Cleveland Youths Involved After Escorting Chance Acquaintance Home.

(By International News Service)

CLEVELAND—Faced with two conflicting stories, detectives attempted to solve the fatal shooting early today of Edward Reynolds, 31, service man for a cigaret vending machine company.

Reynolds was shot in his apartment on Cleveland's east side early today after his wife, Helen, 22, returned home with two youths whose acquaintance she had made in a downtown night spot.

The youths, Allen J. Peck, 22, and Ernest Allison, 20, agreed that they returned to the apartment shortly before 5 a. m. when Mrs. Reynolds asked them to tell her husband "what a good girl I've been tonight."

After they reached the apartment and found Reynolds asleep, the pair remained with Mrs. Reynolds, drinking beer. Fifteen minutes after their arrival Reynolds awoke and produced a revolver. While the trio was still there, he called police.

With police radio dispatcher Vern McGinty on the line, he said:

"There are two guys here who brought my wife home. They're drunk and they stole my money and my watch, but wait a minute. . . ."

McGinty said he then heard what sounded "like a slap on the face."

McGinty dispatched a police radio car, and when Sergeant William Halloran arrived he found Reynolds dead and the apartment in disorder.

Meanwhile both Allison and Mrs. Reynolds, who had fled the apartment, called police, who found Mrs. Reynolds walking on a nearby street and Allison in a neighborhood barbecue.

Peek was picked up at his parents' Cleveland Heights home.

Allison told detectives that he and Mrs. Reynolds fled the apartment when Reynolds called police and Peek grappled with him. They heard a gunshot when they were fleeing, he said.

Detectives said Peek told them he also fled the apartment, but returned when he heard a shot. He found Mrs. Reynolds sitting on the floor, he told detectives, and dragged her from the apartment. Reaching the bottom of the apartment stairs, both of them fell, he said, and a gun fell from her clothing. He then threw the gun in some weeds across the street, where it was found later.

All three were questioned and parrafin tests were made of their hands.

SOVIET DEMANDS RUMANIAN REPLY

Border Fighting Complicates Balkan Situation While Statesmen Meet.

Russia had protested alleged Bessarabian frontier provocations, that it followed up this protest with a new one yesterday announcing that Rumania would be held responsible for any consequences, and that this protest was supplemented by a demand by V. G. Dekanozov, deputy commissar for foreign affairs, to Grigore Gafencu, new Rumanian minister, that Rumania give an "early and satisfactory" reply to the new protest.

On Aug. 19, Tass disclosed, Dekanozov handed Gafencu, a former Rumanian foreign minister sent here only recently to better relations, a note protesting against "provocational actions by Rumanian troops on the Soviet-Rumanian frontier."

"The note emphasized," the Tass communique said, "that a repetition of firing upon Soviet frontier troops by Rumanian troops, in reply to which Soviet frontier guards in some cases were compelled to return the fire, could not be tolerated."

Yesterday, Tass continued, Dekanozov summoned Gafencu to the commissariat for foreign affairs and handed him another note of protest "against new hostile actions by Rumanian frontier detachments and army units on the Soviet frontier as well as against a number of cases of violations of the Soviet frontier by Rumanian military aircraft."

TROSKY FLIGHT PUZZLES VITT

Tribe Captain Flies Home To See Wife Have Two Teeth Pulled.

(By United Press)

CLEVELAND—Because Hal Trosky, captain and leading hitter of the Cleveland Indians, had to catch a plane, he failed to get permission from Manager Oscar Vitt to leave the team so he could visit his wife today.

C. C. Slapnicka, vice president of the Indians, talked with Trosky today as the team arived in Chicago for a series with the White Sox minus their captain.

"Trosky told me that he had explained everything to Lou Mumaw, the Tribe's traveling secretary, and had told Mumaw to relay the message to Vitt," Slapnicka said. "Hal came here to set his mind at rest about his wife and will leave for Chicago some time today. He expects to arrive there in time to play in tonight's game."

At Chicago, Vitt was puzzled.

"I can't figure it out," he said. "Hal never gave the slightest hint that anything was wrong at home. It's funny that he didn't come to me for permission."

Trosky's wife is to have two teeth extracted today, and he told teammates he was worried about her.

by Mrs. Clark Brook, 31 Euclid avenue, who will have charge of the woman's division.

Campaign headquarters will be set up in the Mohican building, the party having leased the second floor offices for conducting their campaign. The office will be opened Sept. 3, O'Donnell said.

Other members of the campaign committee selected by the executive committee officers and the county candidates are:

O'Donnell, E. B. Kallmerten, 17th district state central committeemen; George Koch, Shelby, G. A. Baer, central committee chairman, County Auditor Norman L. Sheriff Long was named to organize the precincts and the townships. He will be assisted by Edith Metcalf, former sales tax inspector during the Davey administration. William Miller, county dog warden, will head a committee charged with bringing in the absent, disabled and sick voter ballots.

Additional committees are expected to be selected by Moore during the next two weeks, O'Donnell said.

Meanwhile Republicans with their campaign already under way renewed their lease on the Warner building on North Main street, used as party headquarters for the past two years.

Members of the newly formed Willkie-Burton-Bricker club will meet at the headquarters Tuesday evening for election of officers. The party expects to initiate its indoor rallies within the next month.

RICHLAND AUTO CLUB OUTLINES TWO HOLIDAY WEEK-END TRIPS

Suggestions for motorists who would like to take a motor trip over the Labor day week-end were offered today by the Richland County Auto club.

One trip, mapped out by Auto club officials, is a 1443-mile jaunt through the Smoky Mountains, Blue Ridge Parkway, and the Sky Line drive. It is a four-day trip.

The other trip planned for motorists is to the famous Pymatuning Reservoir, through Watkins Glen, N. Y., and back home through Niagara Falls. Officials estimate three days for this one.

Taking the first journey, motorists would leave Mansfield on Route 42, traveling south to Cincinnati and Corbin, Ky., where they would pick up U. S. 25-W to Lake City, Tenn.

At Lake City, take Tenn. 71 to Knoxville, passing Lake Norris and Norris Dam. At Knoxville, follow U. S. 129 to Maryville, then pick up Tenn. 71, traveling through the Smoky mountains to Cherokee, Tenn.

At Cherokee U. S. 19 goes to Ashville and out of Ashville, U. S. 70 to U. S. 221, which goes to Boone, N. C. At Boons motorists turn off on U. S. 421, following that route to Deep Gap.

From Deep Gap the Blue Ridge Parkway Drive goes to Adney Gap. According to Auto club officials this is a new highway and they cautioned that motorists should stock up on gasoline at Blowing Rock. There are no gas stations from Blowing Rock to Roanoke, Va.

Following U. S. 221 when reaching Adney Gap, motorists will arrive at Roanoke Va., to turn off on U. S. 11 which comes into Greenville Va. At Greenville, follow Va. 12 over the famous Sky Line Drive.

Driving in Front Royal, pick up Va. Route 3 to Winchester. At Winchester, take U. S. 50, then U. S. 250, and finally U. S. 30 which comes back into Mansfield.

On the second trip, take U. S. 42 out of Mansfield to Lodi; U. S. 224 out of Lodi to Canfield; U. S. 62 out of Canfield to Youngstown; Ohio 7 out of Youngstown to Andover.

Andover picks up Ohio 85 which goes across the Pymatuning reservoir, which houses one of the largest collections of marine animals in North America, to Linesville, Pa.

In Linesville, take U. S. 6 to Bradford, Pa.; out of Bradford, Pa., 16 A to Olean N. Y.; out of Olean, N. Y. 17 to Corning N. Y.; out of Corning, N. Y. 14 to Watkins Glen.

After viewing scenic Watkins Glen, the route goes to Geneva and Lyons, N. Y., on N. Y. 14. At Lyons, N. Y. 31 goes through Rochester to Niagara Falls.

Follow N. Y. 384 out of Niagara Falls to Buffalo, N. Y., and pick up N. Y. 5 there. N. Y. 5 goes to Erie, Pa., from where U. S. 20 goes to Cleveland. Route 42 out of Cleveland comes back to Mansfield.

BATTERY D GETS BACK FROM WAR GAMES TODAY

Guardsmen to Arrive Either Late This Afternoon or This Evening.

Mansfield's Battery D is expected to arrive "home from the wars" sometime late this afternoon, scared after the siege of Chicago, sick of cold, drizzling rains, but with colors flying high.

Annual army maneuvers at Sparta, Wis., broke up Wednesday and the Mansfield motorized battery reached Warsaw, Ind., last night where they bivouaced. They left there early this morning, according to a telephone communication from Capt. R. J. Nichols, and expect to reach here between 5 and 6 p. m. today.

Tomorrow there will be more drilling at the armory in order to complete the prescribed three weeks of work. But there will be a "welcome home" chicken dinner for the guardsmen at 1 p. m. at the armory.

The climax of the three weeks of maneuvers was the "siege of Chicago" which lasted five days, ending shortly before camp broke up. Guardsmen report that through no fault of theirs the enemy was successful, drove them back and captured the theoretical city.

The Fifth Corps (of which the Mansfield battery is a part) made up the Blue army of defenders, while the Sixth Corps made up the Red, or invading army. It was largely a war of maneuvers.

"Twice we were in front of our infantry surrounded by mechanized cavalry," writes Sgt. Dale Rowan and Corp. Frank C. Schneider, "press correspondents" for the News-Journal. "Also our left flank was attacked by enemy infantry, but we always managed to come out of the encounters alive!"

There were some very real woes in this sham war, according to the boys, for there were continuous cold rains during the five days, and one morning their mess truck was commandeered by an infantry captain who used it to transport his troops to the "front," but which left the Mansfield boys without food for the entire day. Then on the final day of the war, they had to eat concentrated rations from cans.

"The prolonged waiting for enemy attack grew monotonous," according to the correspondents. "Occasionally false alarms regarding enemy attack were heard. Men prepared for action only to be disappointed. But throughout it all the morale of the men was excellent, and that, after all, is one of the essentials."

In the five days of warfare the men had a total of eight hours sleep and covered 300 miles of ground.

Tomorrow's dinner at the armory is expected to make up somewhat for the gastronomic hardships.

The Mansfield contingent was made up of 70 men and four officers.

SHIFT SCHEDULE

Red Cross Outlines First Aid, Safety Meetings.

A change in next week's Red Cross schedule was announced today by R. D. Iden, chairman of the first aid and safety division.

Iden had called a meeting of the lay instructors group for next Wednesday night to map plans for the new classes. It has been set forward to 7:30 p. m. Tuesday and will be held at Red Cross headquarters.

Iden said today the meeting was changed because three of the lay instructors will be in service from Wednesday through Thursday on the Red Cross first aid trailer at the Shelby fair.

The following week the trailer will be in service at the Bellville fair.

BOYS IN PURSE SNATCHING WIN PROBATION AT COURT HEARING

Two 14-year-old Mansfield youths who admitted snatching a woman's purse on Marion avenue Wednesday night had been sent home on probation today because there is no room for them at the Salvation Army detention home, Probate Judge C. J. Anderson said.

"It was my intention to send them to the home for several days, but the institution is full already," Judge Anderson said.

Brought into juvenile court yesterday afternoon, the boys admitted they snatched a purse from Mrs. R. Felver, 344 Arlington avenue, to get money to buy an automobile. The purse contained only 73 cents.

With the help of a motorist Mrs. Felver captured one of the boys and turned him over to police.

In court yesterday, the youths admitted they stole money and small articles from two or three Mansfield homes in recent weeks.

Judge Anderson said the father of one of the youths is serving a term in the Ohio penitentiary [illegible] and the boy's mother is attempting to earn enough to keep her family.

[illegible] It's a real [illegible] what to do [illegible] offender," Judge Anderson said. "Sending [illegible] always [illegible] in the [illegible] state [illegible] from [illegible]

MUNY PARKING LOT STUDIED BY CITY OFFICIALS

Mayor to Ask Council to Take Option on Lots: Cites City Hall Expansion.

Plans for establishment of a municipally owned parking lot were revealed today by Mayor William J. Locke.

The mayor said he had asked City Solicitor Marion D. Ward to prepare legislation appropriating funds to take option on two lots on South Walnut street adjacent to City hall.

The properties include two lots with a 120-foot frontage on both Walnut street and Marshal avenue. The parcel is 120 square, with a two-story frame residence on the corner lot.

Locke has asked council to appropriate $50 with the privilege of purchasing the land within six months at the total cost of $5,000. Both properties, county records show, are appraised at a total of $1,100. Value of the ground is set at $2,900 and the house at $1,200.

The properties are owned by the Mechanics Building and Loan company which has agreed to the option price, the mayor said.

Locke pointed out that the purchase would give the city additional land in the event that it should some day need land for expanding city offices.

Being tax free he has suggested that the property be turned into a municipal parking lot, the house to be removed to make way for the parking ground.

He said it was expected that the city would operate parking on a free basis. The legislation will be presented to council at its Sept. 3 meeting.

APPOINTED AS NEW REGISTRAR

Hurst R. Anderson, Formerly of Mansfield, Named To Allegheny Post.

Appointment of Hurst R. Anderson formerly of Mansfield, as registrar of Allegheny college was announced today by Dr. William P. Tolley, president of the college.

Prof. Anderson is the son of Rev. Foster C. Anderson, one-time pastor of First Methodist church here who now holds a pastorate in Kent.

A member of the faculty since 1928, Prof. Anderson succeeds Dean Clarence F. Ross, who retires Sept. 1 as dean emeritus after 50 years of service.

Advanced to a full professorship in the department of speech, the new registrar will continue as a member of the faculty. An important phase of Prof. Anderson's new duties will be the integration and correlation of administrative departments.

Prof. Anderson attended Ohio Wesleyan university and served as assistant alumni secretary there in the year following his graduation. He did graduate work at the University of Michigan and Northwestern university, receiving a master's degree from the school of speech of the latter institution in 1935.

Willkie Denounces Draft Amendment.

RUSHVILLE, Ind. —(UP)— Calling on President Roosevelt to state his own views, Wendell L. Willkie has denounced as "revolutionary" a section of the senate-approved conscription bill permitting the government to take over certain plants needed for defense.

"It may be that the American people want to socialize and Sovietize our system of free enterprise," the Republican presidential nominee told reporters yesterday.

"If they do, that is all right, but that is one of the fundamental issues of the campaign and I want to debate it."

Willkie made this comment as he issued a 1,100-word statement criticizing the Overton-Russell amendment to the conscription measure. He said the amendment would let the government operate a plant whenever the secretary of war or navy could not reach an agreement with the owner.

Declaring this authority would set up a "potential dictatorship," Willkie's statement continued:

"No such sweeping powers were ever heretofore granted to a president of the United States even in time of war. This amendment, if it becomes law, will further impede and disorganize the defense program at the very time when we must speed it up.

"It will constitute a threat to the American labor and particularly union labor, for the president of the United States some time ago told American labor: 'You cannot strike against the government.' "

Health authorities declined to give any explanation for Dr. Rehder's absence, reporting only that he "was out of the city."

It was learned however, that he had told friends he was concerned about his health and was going to Milwaukee to consult a physician. He indicated that he might go to Rochester for a check up. He was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Rehder.

LEFT PARALYZED IN CAR FOR TWO DAYS AFTER CRASH, DIES

(By Associated Press)

FREMONT — A strange deathbed account of how Grant Stark 60-year-old retired factory worker, lay paralyzed and unattended for two nights in an automobile after a traffic accident, spurred officials in an investigation today.

Police Chief Herman Schneider said Stark related shortly before his death in a hospital here yesterday that he was paralyzed Monday night when an automobile in which he was riding swerved off route 68 near West Liberty, O., and plunged over an embankment.

The car was righted and the driver, a Fremont man, drove away before highway patrolmen and an ambulance arrived at the scene, Schneider quoted Stark as saying. Police later overtook the car at Urbana and ordered Stark taken to a doctor.

The police chief said Stark told him the Urbana physician was unable to diagnose his trouble and the driver offered to call a physician on their return to Fremont.

The driver discredited Stark's complaint that he was paralyzed, however, and left him in the automobile where he remained until friends took him to a hospital Wednesday, Schneider quoted the accident victim.

Sandusky County Prosecutor A. L. Hyzer said he would confer today with Chief Schneider concerning Stark's death. The driver is not held, but Hyzer indicated he probably would be questioned.

TAKES STEPS TO FINISH HOUSE NUMBERING JOB

Engineer to Ask Council To Appropriate Funds to Have Last 500 Corrected.

City Engineer W. C. Statler today asked council to provide funds for completing the correction of house numbers in Mansfield.

In his request Statler said that approximately $75 would be needed to complete the project which was started about four months ago.

He asked council to consider the appropriation at its Sept. 3 meeting along with "controlling" legislation that would permit him to hire an employe to put the numbers up on a percentage basis.

Statler explained that approximately 4,000 new numbers had been posted during the correctional survey made by George Bolesky. He pointed out, however, that there was still about 500 of the homes which still had incorrect numbers, the owners failing to make the changes when Bolesky made his rounds.

He told council he wanted to have the changes made and bill the property owners for the expense on the tax duplicate. In order to do this he said it was necessary to get the change made before the December duplicate was made up.

Fred Miller and C. N. Shultz, of council's finance committee, said they would give the request "every consideration" believing that it would be "money well spent."

Statler informed the councilmen that both street and telephone directory people were awaiting completion of the number changes before preparing new books.

Flowers, sprinkling cans and tiny umbrellas were used for decorations, and a shower of miscellaneous gifts was presented to the honoree. The hostesses gave the honoree a linen luncheon set. The evening was spent socially.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clerice, 58 Harker street, and attended the St. Peter's schools. Mr. Stahlheber is the son of Mrs. Anna Stahlheber, 39 Small avenue. He attended Mansfield Senior high school, and is employed at the Fairview hotel.

Informally Speaking...

By MARIANNE

Marianne

TOMORROW is an important day of the summer for Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevens, as they're entraining for a trip to the Canadian Rockies, Lake Louise and Banff—those vacation spots which have been favored by so many Mansfielders this season. . . . The Stevens are planning to return to their home at Low Hills on Park avenue west road in about two weeks, while the Olsons will go on to Seattle, Wash., for their car. . . . From there they will tour the west coast before driving down to their ranch, near Phoenix, Ariz., for the winter.

Did you see Mr. and Mrs. J. Eugene Fendrick and their young son, Don, while they were visiting here in town? They were staying with Mr. Fendrick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fendrick, on Helen avenue, and of course, they also saw many of their other relatives and friends. . . . About the middle of this week they went to Cleveland for a few days, and now they will leave for their home in San Francisco, Cal. . . . En route west, they will stop off in Omaha, Neb., and Yellowstone National park.

* * *

HEADING west this week-end are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Henry and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Glessner, who are going out to Wyoming for a two-weeks' stay. . . . They'll be visiting the Henrys' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Lambert, who have a ranch just 60 miles south of Yellowstone National park. . . . Mrs. Lambert, you probably recall, was formerly Jeanne Henry. . . . On the way out, the foursome will stop in Chicago, Ill., to see Mrs. Glessner's sister, Mrs. E. C. Ozier and her husband (whom you'll no doubt remember better as Betty Eichelberger of this city), and in Omaha, Neb., to see her other sister, Mrs. J. J. Moffatt and her husband—Mrs. Moffatt, you know, was Helen Eichelberger.

Naomi Stutz is back home again after another summer in New York City at Columbia university—and she's looking very much as though it agreed with her. . . . She's sporting a new hairdress and some very smart clothes. . . . While there, she took time out from her secretarial duties to see some of the new musicals and attend several radio broadcasts. . . . After the Fred Waring show, she had quite a chat with our own Jane Wilson—which probably made the old home town seem a lot closer for both of them.

* * *

Also among the Mansfielders who've returned for the opening of school next week is John C. Stout, a teacher at the Senior high school. . . . He and his wife have been in Madison, Wis., most all summer, as he was doing post graduate work there at the University of Wisconsin.

* * *

IF YOU haven't yet seen Grace Ladd's new diamond ring, you've really a treat in store. . . . She received it recently from Harvie Willsey and is, of course, wearing it on that special finger of her left hand—and it is truly lovely.

* * *

Mrs. J. W. Leistensnider is having an unusual amount of luck with a quilt she displayed at the Ohio State fair in Columbus this week. . . . She received a sweepstake premium for it, denoting that it was the most outstanding quilt in all classes shown, as well as the first prize for the most artistic quilt. . . . This quilt is of Mrs. Leistensnider's own design, "road of progress" and she was given honorable mention for it in the national quilt show sponsored by the Good Housekeeping magazine in New York City. The quilt was one of 20 (chosen from more than 300) to be kept on exhibit for several months at a New York department store.

SPEAKING of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Pecht and their niece, Mary Alice Urich, drove there this week to stay until the holiday next Monday. . . . They will bring Mrs. Pecht's sister, Mrs. Georgia Alexander, back with them—she has been vacationing there for the most part of this summer, you know. . . . Mrs. R. C. Wise is in the east just now too—she's stopping at the Chalfonte-Haddon in Atlantic City, N. J., as is Hazel L. Underwood.

* * *

It seems a shame we all aren't lucky enough to have relatives living in New York City during these days of the world fair there. . . . Mrs. John W. Graham and her two daughters, Verna Beth and Marilynn, have found such an arrangement most convenient. . . . They are returning home tonight following a two-weeks' stay in the metropolis with Mr. Graham's parents—and so, of course, they've taken in all the sights during their vacation.

* * *

AND IN CONCLUSION: Helen Rein returned this week from a vacation of several weeks in Toronto, Canada—just in time for her sister, Frances' announcement tea Wednesday, when she revealed her engagement to Dr. Joseph Edelstein of Toledo. . . . Glenn W. Smith is back from a tour of Kentucky, Tennessee, the Carolinas, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Georgia and Pennsylvania, with stopoffs in the Smoky and Allegheny mountains, Skyline caverns and many other interesting places. . . . And some other vacationers are Eva Hagar, Marjorie [illegible], Ila Mae Smith and Garnet Karl, who are taking a ten-days sojourn to Washington, D. C., New York City and Atlantic City. . . . Mrs. Ione Pifer and her daughters, Anna Belle and Carolyn, are visiting with relatives in Detroit, Mich., this week. . . . Mrs. A. A. [illegible] and her daughter, Mary Jane, are spending the week-end in Richmond, Ind., as guests at the home of some former Mansfielders, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Arnold and their family.

Round Table Club Arranges Joint Meetings This Season

EACH day now brings news of additional club plans, and returning travelers are busy between getting the small fry ready for school, and planning their own autumn activities. One of Mansfield's oldest clubs—the Round Table club (organized in 1889) has just announced its project for the year.

The organization's schedule, printed in the customary cream and green booklet, will begin with a joint luncheon meeting of the Travelers', Victorian, Nomad and Round Table clubs Sept. 25 at Westbrook Country club. The Travelers' club will be in charge of the session.

During the season programs will be held twice monthly with the members in charge. Another joint meeting will be held with the Victorian club on Dec. 16 with Mrs. H. T. Siegenthaler and Mrs. H. L. Creveling in charge. And on March 3 the Travelers and Round Table clubs will hear a guest speaker with Mrs. Lewis Brucker in charge.

Officers for the current year are Mrs. George Anson, president; Mrs. Carl B. Gibson, vice president and Mrs. A. W. Meihack, secretary-treasurer.

Fete Mrs. Humbert at Personal Shower

The Colonial Guest House was the scene of the personal shower given last night by Miss Ruth Paessler in honor of Mrs. F. S. Humbert, the former Miss Ellen Wright. Bridge was in play at three tables with prizes going to Miss Lois Traxler and Miss Liele Tinkey who presented them to the honoree.

A large blue sprinkling can from which white streamers fell led the recent bride to her gifts. Luncheon was served at a long table decorated with blue and white appointments. Tall blue and white candles and a centerpiece of matching flowers with individual favors of miniature sprinkling cans completed the setting.

The honoree was presented with a personal gift by the honoree, and a lamp from the tabulating department of the Lumbermens Mutual Insurance company.

AFTERNOON SERVICE READ BY REV. ROLLER

Miss Sanchen Janet Cutter, Herbert Eugene Shoemaker Wedded In Formal Ceremony at Presbyterian Church Yesterday.

WEARING a six-pence in her shoe for luck and carrying her great-grandmother's handkerchief with her bridal costume of white faille taffeta, Miss Sanchen Janet Cutter exchanged nuptial vows with Herbert Eugene Shoemaker yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock before the altar of the First Presbyterian church.

Preceding the service, which was performed by Rev. David Neal Roller before relatives and friends of the couple, Mrs. A. L. Twitchell presided at the organ playing Schubert's "Serenade," "The Girl With the Flaxen Hair" and a selection from the opera "Mignon" by Thomas. She also played the traditional wedding marches by Wagner and Mendelssohn.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weston Cutter, 86 Parkwood boulevard, was given in marriage by her father. Her floor-length gown had a slight train and was fashioned with wrist-length sleeves, a sweetheart neckline and a girdled waist decorated with pearls. Her circular cape finger-tip veil cascaded from a pearled Juliet cap, which was caught at either side of her face with a spray of real orange blossoms, sent here from California by her grandmother. She carried a colonial shower bouquet of white asters, pompons and swansonia.

Mrs. Cutter appeared at her daughter's wedding wearing a gray-blue sheer crepe dress with white accessories, and a corsage of pink asters. Mr. Shoemaker's mother, Mrs. Martha Shoemaker of Waterloo, Ia., wore a crepe gown of an old-rose shade with navy blue accessories and a corsage of blue-white asters.

The couple received guests at the church, and later a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. Places were laid for 14 guests at the table, which was centered with a cake in the shape of two wedding bells.

Following a wedding trip in northern Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Shoemaker will reside at Cutters until the completion of their new home on Maumee avenue. For traveling, the bride was attired in a dark blue sheer ensemble with rose accessories.

The former Miss Cutter is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school, and she also attended Bradford Junior college. Mr. Shoemaker was graduated from Iowa State university at Ames, Ia., where he was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He now is employed at the Ohio Brass company.

Expected Frequently Happens

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

"The unexpected happens," said Disraeli, but does it? Isn't it the thing we've dwelt upon, decided it's bound to come our way, no matter whether it's for our good or evil, that finally comes to pass?

In the years I've done this column, I've had innumerable letters from people telling me that they've made up their minds to certain happenings, and the thing came about, as irrevocably as death and taxes.

Some of the things this frame of mind has brought about is marriage to a certain individual. A typical letter stands out:

"He didn't seem particularly interested in me when we met, nor did I go after him like a collie rounding up a sheep." (needless to say this letter came from the great open spaces where they have ranges and sheep.) "But I just decided he was my fate. And he is my fate."

Again I've had letters from people who have dwelt upon misfortunes, hypnotized themselves into thinking they could not be sidestepped, and this attitude brought the dread happenings about.

"I always felt I was going to lose my husband by an accident," one woman wrote. "I wondered over this day and night. He was killed by an automobile just outside our gate."

"I always saw myself a dependent in the house of my daughter-in-law, who never liked me," writes another. "And I never liked her, but when I lost the insurance money my husband had left me in the stock market, I was forced to go and live with her."

This sort of thing, in psychology, has the rather unwieldly name "precipitating the image." It's a mighty dangerous pastime, unless you dwell upon the thing that is for your good, your happiness or your peace of mind. Cast out the thoughts of unhappiness, bad luck or death, if you want to live.

Consider the case of Carson C Surles of Dunn, North Carolina, an account of whose death was published in a recent newspaper dispatch. For twenty-five years, Mr. Surles had kept a rendezvous with death. He was only 34 when he began this vigil, but he decided that he was going to die in July 1940, and die he did.

Throughout the last week of his life, Mr. Surles visited his relatives and friends and bade them goodbye. He invited them to his funeral, which he said would occur on the date he had been keeping with death for the last twenty-five years. He went to the cemetery, scraped the weeds from his grave and put everything in order.

He said goodbye to his employer, resigned his job, said he must go home and get ready. He became ill, apparently without cause, and died at 2:20 in the afternoon he had indicated. The doctor who attended the dying man said he could find no cause for death, and that the thought of suicide was impossible.

Draw your own conclusions, and not only decline to make a rendezvous with death, but with any misfortune.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"He shall never know anything about it from me," I told the worried telephone operator, and then her switch snapped open, and her voice, calm again and professionally mechanical, intoned, "Mrs. Graham on the wire, Mr. Veritzen."

"My dear lady!" he said, his raucous tones muted, and his words invested with his usual careful courtesy. "What a coincidence this is! I could not believe that you were on the wire. Now, how can I serve you? Is there something especial that you wish of me? I hope so, for it will give me great pleasure to grant any request. Please tell me about it"

He did not say "as quickly as possible," but I understood the unspoken request.

"I won't take a minute," I promised. "It's about the boys, Bill and Hank."

"Has anything happened to them?" he asked. "They're at school, aren't they?"

"They were," I answered, and then I told him in the briefest fashion possible of the closing of the boys' school because of an epidemic in the town, and of my wish to have Bill and Hank stay at the Lansfield until it was safe for them to come home.

"You don't need to ask me," he said reproachfully.

"I didn't wait for your permission," I said. "I told the boys to go directly to the hotel, and that they would find a message there. I thought that after I had seen you, I could give them different directions, if necessary."

"You should have known it wouldn't be necessary," he said, his voice still inflected with reproach. "But to make things doubly sure, I will telephone them to watch out for the boys and put them into your suite, which is still kept for you and Mary, and to give them every attention possible. I will also arrange for a credit for pocket money. How much do you wish them to have?"

I knew better than to protest. I simply said, "Thank you so much," named the sum I thought sufficient for a week's sojourn, and added: "My husband, of course, will have all the bills sent to him."

I could visualize the airy wave of the hand with which he dismissed that, as he does all financial questions between friends, and his "Please, let us not discuss that!" was equally familiar. Then he spoke again, and I was sure I detected nervousness in his voice.

"Is there anything else you wish to ask me?" he queried.

"Nothing at all," I rejoined quickly. "But, what can I do for you?"

"I want to talk to your father with no chance of anyone's listening. Hasn't he a private telephone, unlisted, and may I not call him from a booth?"

"Yes, to both queries," I said, "but I must get his permission before giving you—or anyone, the number. Do you mind holding the line?"

"No, indeed," he said with forced heartiness. "I'll keep this line open for you."

"I'll be right back," I promised, and sped upstairs to my father's room. I gave my own special knock and he called: "Come in!"

I found him lying on the couch, and went over to him in quick alarm, for despite his weakness, he rarely lies down during his waking hours.

"Father! Are you—" but he did not wait for me to finish my frightened query.

"I am perfectly all right," he assured me. "But—I have nothing to do now, but wait, for all my plans are made, and are being admirably carried out. Also, I promised my admirable nurse before she went over to care for Miss Fairfax, that I would lie down and relax whenever possible."

"Bless her heart!" I said fervently. "No! please don't get up!" as he raised himself from the pillow. "I am only a courier with a message, and must return at once."

He lay back obediently, and smiled at me.

"Very well! I'll listen to your message," he said, and I told him word for word, "commas included," what Philip Veritzen had said, adding, "He seemed very much upset."

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, Aug. 31.

With omens of stubborn obstacles and want of co-operation from those in position and power it may be imperative to bring to bear much keen and logical mentality as well as a more than usual degree of tact, finesse and cleverness to successfully break through impediment and opposition. The latter tactics may bear fruit with certain superiors or important personages whose hostility is but moderate or lukewarm.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves beset by delays, disappointments and tenacious obstacles during the year, with portents of loss, want of co-operation from desired sources and other impediments. However, the mind will be keen, shrewd and farseeing, suggesting the employment of tact, diplomacy and finesse to break down resistance and opposition.

A child born on this day may be rigid, dogmatic and unyielding, perhaps too tenacious for its own good. However, a brilliant mind may break down a defeatist behaviorism. Training in this direction is indicated.

Tomorrow's Problem.

North: ♠ Q J 10 7 4 ♥ A 8 5 2 ♦ 6 4 ♣ J 4

West: ♠ A 9 8 ♥ Q 6 3 ♦ K 3 2 ♣ Q 8 5 3

East: ♠ 6 5 3 ♥ 9 7 ♦ J 10 7 5 ♣ 10 9 6 2

South: ♠ K 2 ♥ K J 10 4 ♦ A Q 9 8 ♣ A K 7

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

How much does it cost North and South, on this deal, to be players who refuse to bid a four-card suit when it is not topped by at least one and a half high card tricks?

One of the smallest big game fish on record was an eight pound swordfish caught near Havana.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

BY

Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

PROTECT YOUR TRICKS

UNLESS you are trying to remove a trump from the hand of declarer or dummy in order to prevent ruffing, the lead of a trump usually is one of the very worst of defensive plays, for the reason that it ordinarily is just what the declarer would do himself. But if you have some side suit honors which may be jeopardized by leading from them, or your partner is likely to have some which your leading might put under the hammer, or if your leading a particular suit will probably save the declarer from making a difficult guess of which way to finesse, a trump lead may be your best resort.

North: ♠ 8 3 ♥ J 8 3 ♦ A 10 9 8 ♣ A 8 7 3

West: ♠ J 10 9 7 6 ♥ 9 2 ♦ K 5 4 ♣ 6 4 2

East: ♠ K 4 2 ♥ K Q 6 ♦ J 7 3 2 ♣ Q J 5

South: ♠ A Q 5 ♥ A 10 7 5 4 ♦ Q 6 ♣ K 10 9

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	3 ♥	Pass

Where South called 2-No Trumps after North showed the diamonds stopped, the contract was carried to 3-No Trumps, an overtrick being made at most tables in the duplicate where this deal arose. That score was beaten, however, by the pairs which got into a heart game because South preferred to rebid of his major suit. All of them made at least 5-Hearts and one made 6-Hearts.

In the heart play, West led his spade J to the K and A. The Q was scored, then the 5 ruffed, for a trick which could not be made in No Trump play. From dummy came the heart 8 East split his honors and South took with the A, repeating the suit with the 4 to the J and K. A bit of thought should have shown East at this juncture that a lead of either diamonds or clubs might cost him or his partner a trick, whereas a trump lead probably couldn't hurt.

The club Q was chosen by East. South let it run to the A, as he now had a finesse against the J. After leading to the club 10, he laid down the K, cashed the diamond A and the club 8, discarding the diamond Q, so made six-odd.

Canadian Mother Thankful

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

From British Columbia, Canada, came this

"Dear Dr. Myers, I have been going to write you again for over two years. . . . I wrote you regarding my youngest daughter, then 22 years old, who, after an illness, had to be sent to a mental home. Your letter to me and later an article helped me 'carry on' in very trying circumstances. . . . I blamed myself as one is bound to do but perhaps as you say, 'We parents are often too hard on ourselves.' Now that my daughter seems wholly recovered and leading a healthy normal life, I feel that I may have done a few things well and that her background and our influence for her good and happiness has helped to bring this about. . . .

A Thankful Heart.

"As I look back over the New Year's holiday I do so with a thankful heart and proud of my children and wonder what I have done to deserve them. . . . We sometimes clash, as all mothers and children do, but at least they see reasons. They have decided views on many things, but as far as possible I try to respect them.

"Their religion for the first part was taught by me reading Bible Stories (Hulbert's Story of the Bible, by Jesse Lyman Hulbert). I agree with you reading good books to children has a great educational value. Later education, although very good, may go to their heads instead of their hearts and induce personal selfishness.

"Religion — being English Church, Episcopal, as we are called in the United States, I saw that all four were brought up in this faith. After confirmation I let them go their way, never making them go to church for 'my sake' or saying they 'must'. . . . My boy in the 'flower of manhood' answered his country's call and is now in training. Before leaving he said, 'Mum, I have a date with you tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock, Holy Communion.' Could a leave-taking be finer? The memory of that morning in church beside my boy will remain with me always!"

This mother, Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, closes her letter with one of her poems she permits me to print:

"THE DESIGNER"

Days go by when we never
Question why,
Then events begin to move more
swiftly!
The design of life is changed
From rosy red, to black despair,
The Designer works out a plan
Piece by piece
If we leave life in his hands!
The black, the grey, the mauve,
Then gold, back to rosy red,
Then we know the answer
To life's story
Our minds made up to do our share!
The design is there
If we place the pieces carefully.

Solving Parent Problems.

Q. My daughter four years old sleeps till 7:30 every morning, and we get up at about 7. But on Sundays and holidays we like to sleep longer, though she insists on rising then at 7:30 as usual.

A. Don't expect a young child to sleep any longer on Sunday morning or a holiday than on any other day. She is a creature of habit. Provide this child with toys then and show her how she can, on waking, amuse herself without annoying other members of the family.

DEATH LOVES A HOLIDAY

LET'S MAKE LABOR DAY SAFE

On Labor Day week-end for the last four years, an average of 267 people were killed in traffic accidents.

Nearly all of these deaths were preventable - - in almost every case someone was reckless.

Two hundred and sixty-seven persons will die in traffic accidents next week-end - - if we don't do something about it.

If you drive on Labor Day, be careful between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening - - that's when most fatal accidents occur. From 5 to 6 and from 8 to 9 are bad, too. During these hours, use extra caution.

Don't be a RECKLESS driver. Don't drive too fast - - don't get on the wrong side of the road - - don't go barging ahead when you don't have the right of way - - don't try to pass other cars on hills or on curves.

Don't be a CARELESS driver. Don't weave in and out of heavy traffic - - don't try to appreciate the scenery - - don't turn around to argue with back-seat critics - - don't try to tune-in the radio.

Sure, you never do these things - - but a lot of folks will drive just this way this Labor Day week-end. And a lot of them won't be around when it's over - - to wish they had been careful.

The MODERN Automobile Is SAFE . . . . Yet . . .

Your modern automobile is SAFE—but nobody can make you drive safely.

Every year sees advances in safety features in automobiles in every price class. Today most cars provide

Steel Body
Steel Top
Four-Wheel Brakes
Non-Skid Tires

Sealed Beam Headlights
Safety Glass
Clear Vision Windshield
Ample Power

. . . and many minor safeguards.

Yet thousands of auto accidents occur every year—just because someone was careless—or reckless.

IT CAN HAPPEN TO YOU! PLAY SAFE . . .
